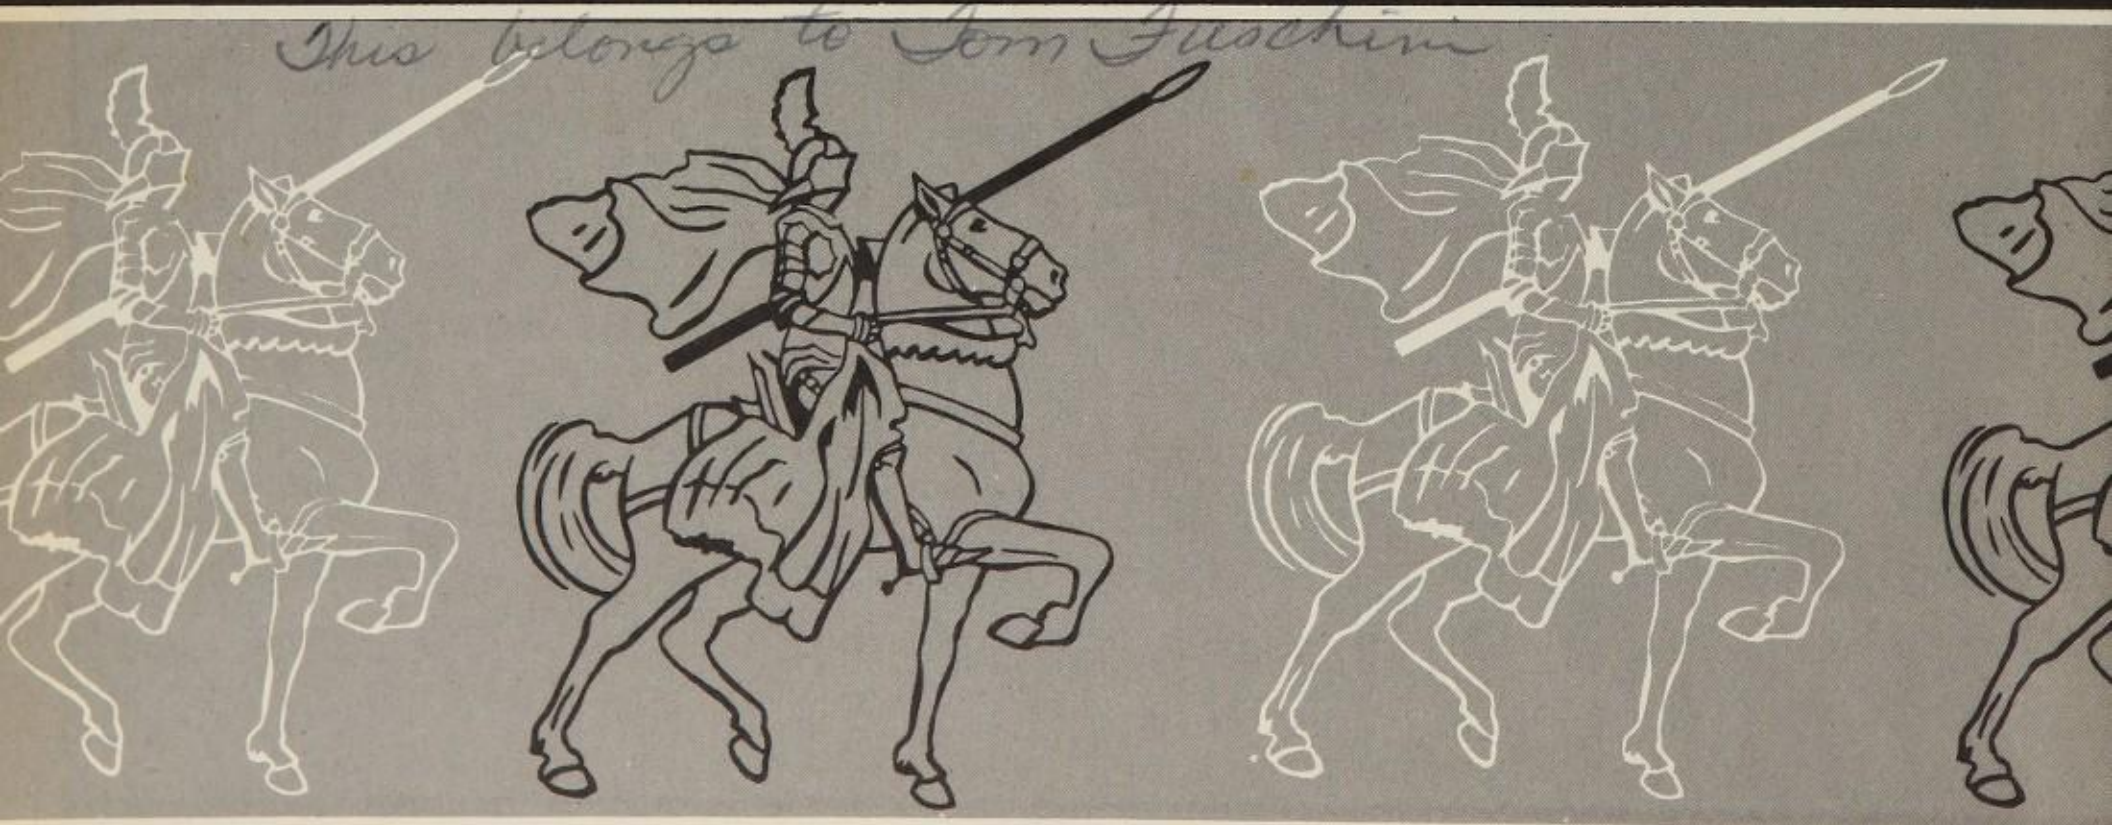
1970
EXCALIBUR

This belongs to Tom Fischer



Chess, an intricate and interesting game, offers a comparative setting for the 1970 story of "The Robinson Knights."

Simulating warfare, chess is probably the world's oldest game of pure skill. One theory is that it was devised to divert men from waging actual war. With this idea Robinson is proud to be identified.

Played on an ordinary checkerboard, chess uses all the squares, a significant difference. Robinson realizes that all areas have purposes; that extraordinary values often evolve from ordinary situations.

On a chessboard, a brilliant attack sometimes wins swift success, but the game is usually won through many small victories. Robinson appreciates genius, patience, perseverance, and perspiration.

Each chessman has a special way of moving. The Robinson Knight studies objectives, chooses direction and moves to achieve desired results.

Chessmen include the knight of chivalry, symbol of courage, honor, truth, loyalty, and service. The Robinson Knight is given a guide, a goal, a standard for learning to live.

Like wise men of old who fathered chess, Robinson Knights have a vision of an Age of Peace, when earth's peoples will solve their problems and resolve their differences in a wiser way than war.

The chessboard game of life goes on.

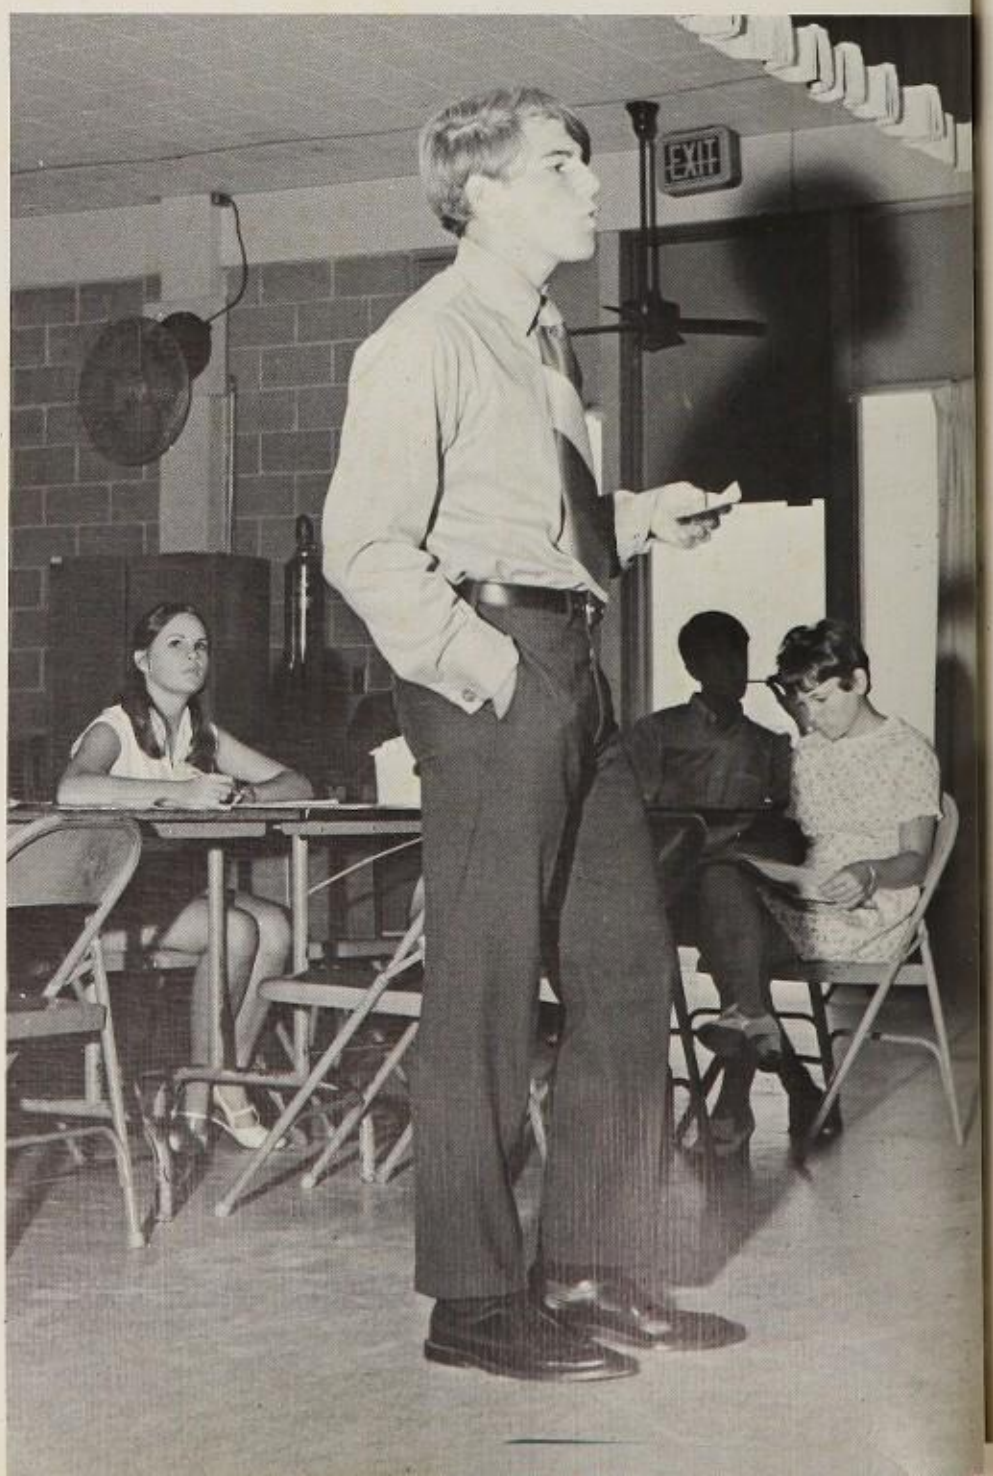
Volume X

The game begins again; the pieces fall into place.
Old players are gone, and there are new kings, new queens,
New moves on life's chessboard.
The year unfolds before us – one day at a time
With new challenge, new promise and new problems born of change.
The game begins again . . .
Its outcome depends upon our courage, our strategy, our attitudes, our determination and our skill.
Its import may not yet be weighed,
For this game is but one in a lifelong tournament.

We, as human players, have some advantage at least
Over proud, still ebony and ivory figures –
Ourselves.
Our individuality and will may turn the game in our favor.
Each of us can move by his own hand
As well as Fate's.
Each sets his own prize to be won when the game ends.
Knights we are now, but at the last checkmate,
Who will be pawns, and who royalty?
We make the opening move . . .



BLAKE!

Beyond this beautiful facade
Is where part of the game is played.
Mentors here instruct us in time tested
rules,
Showing us the known restrictive way
Before launching forth into the vast unknown
Where horizons all are limitless.

Minute miracles of feeling and being and discovery
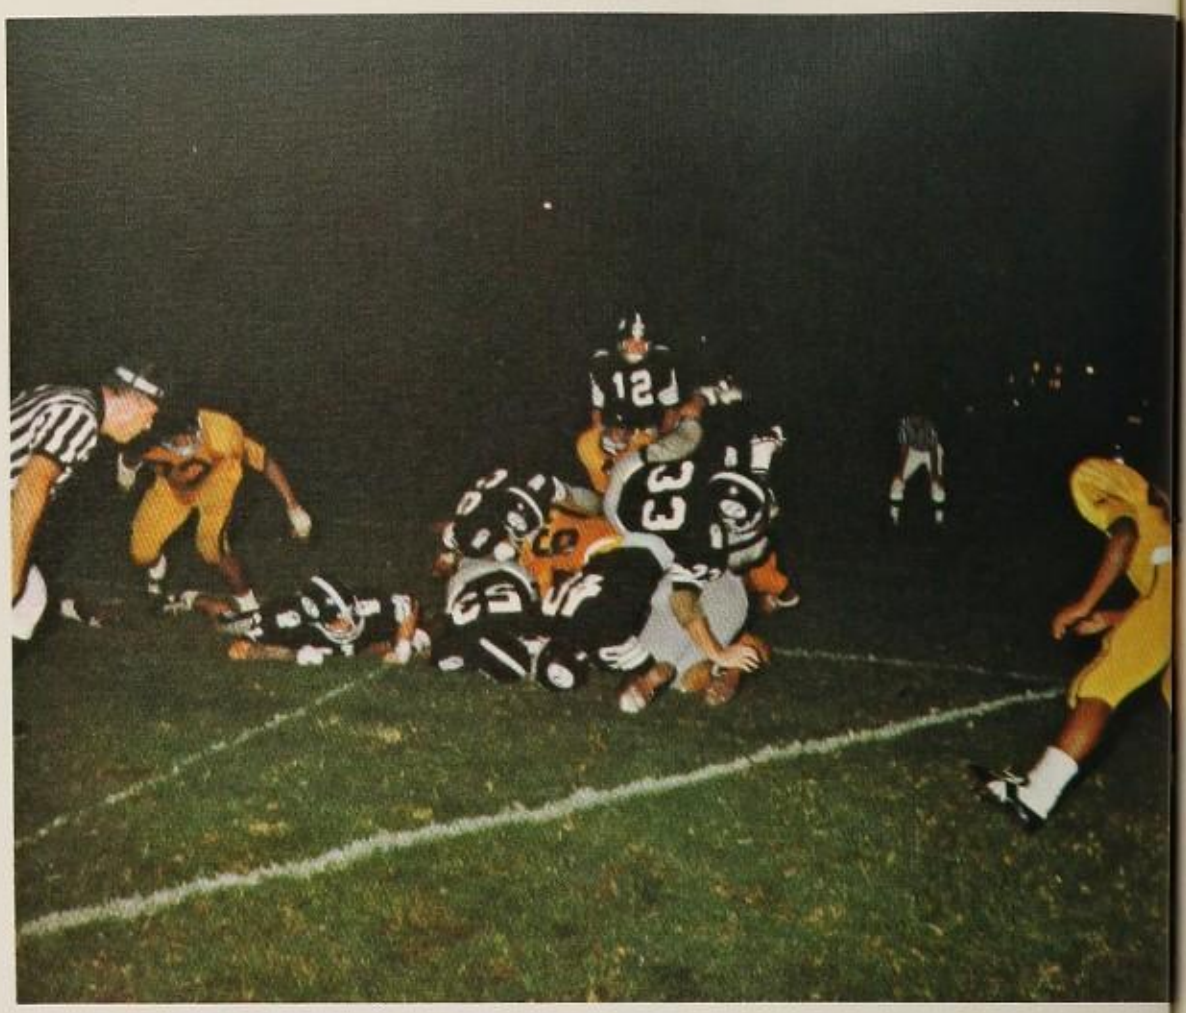
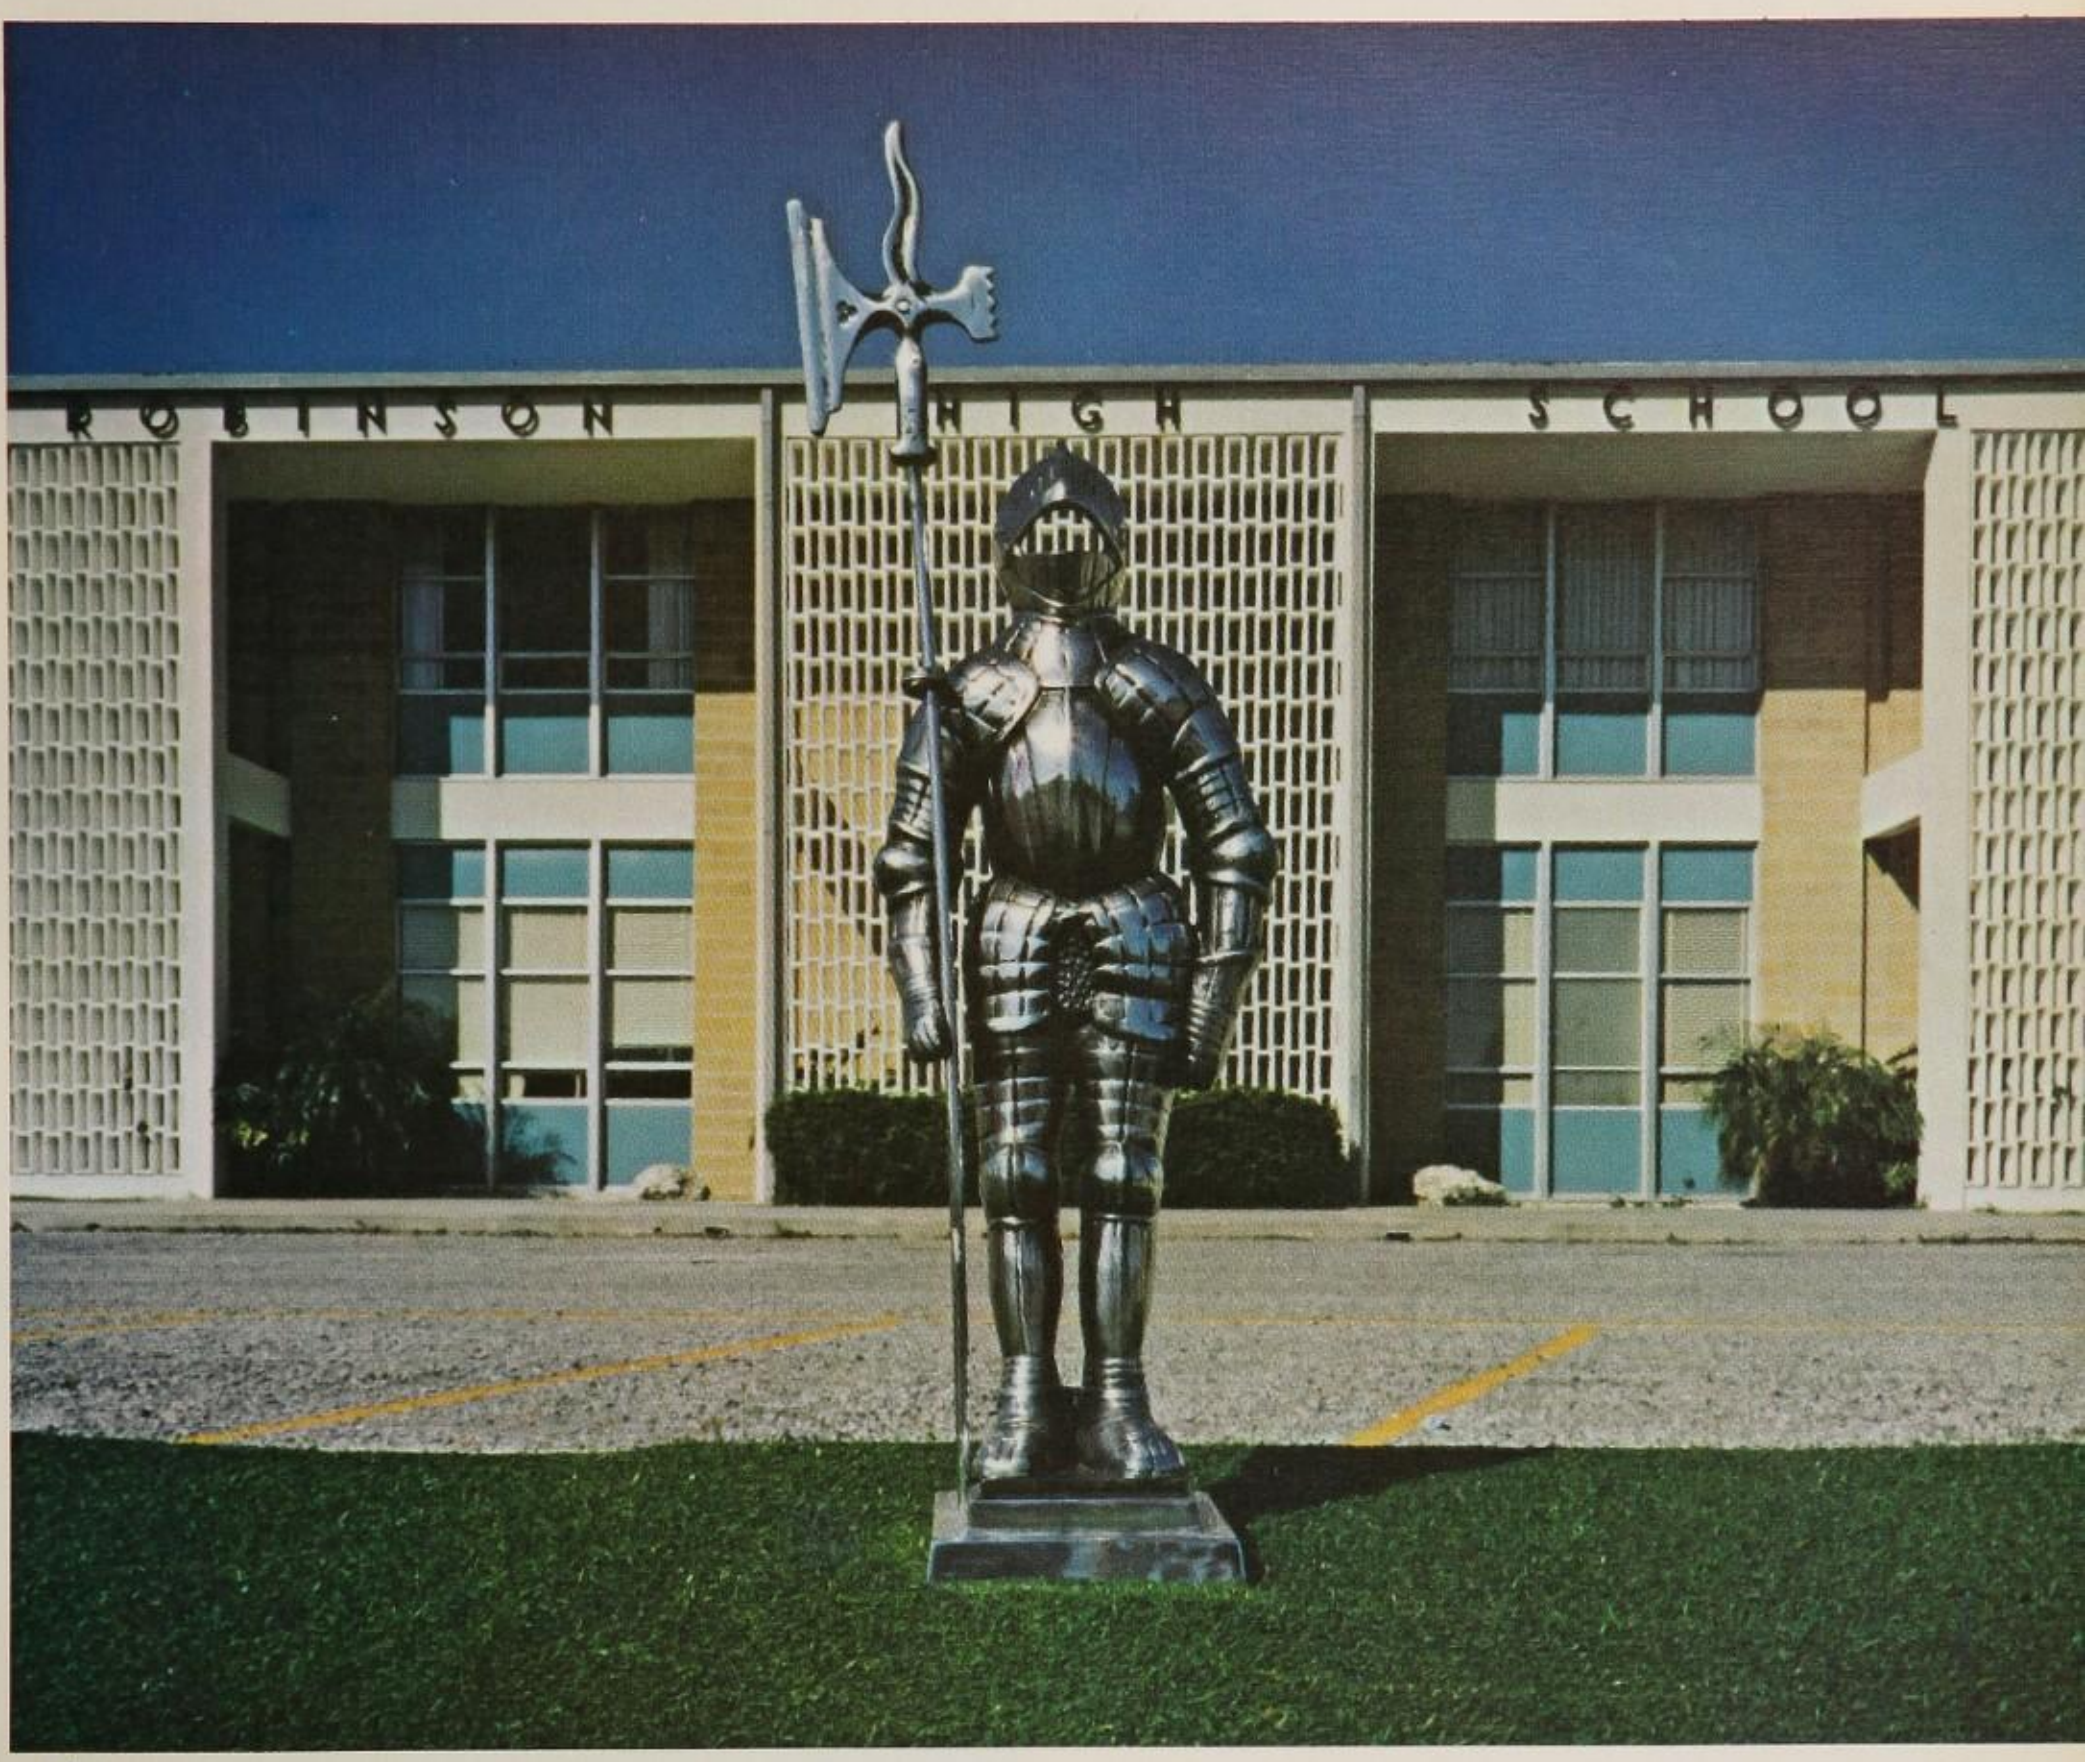
Are swallowed up in hours of routine.
But the memories and the knowing
Are part of us to come alive another day.



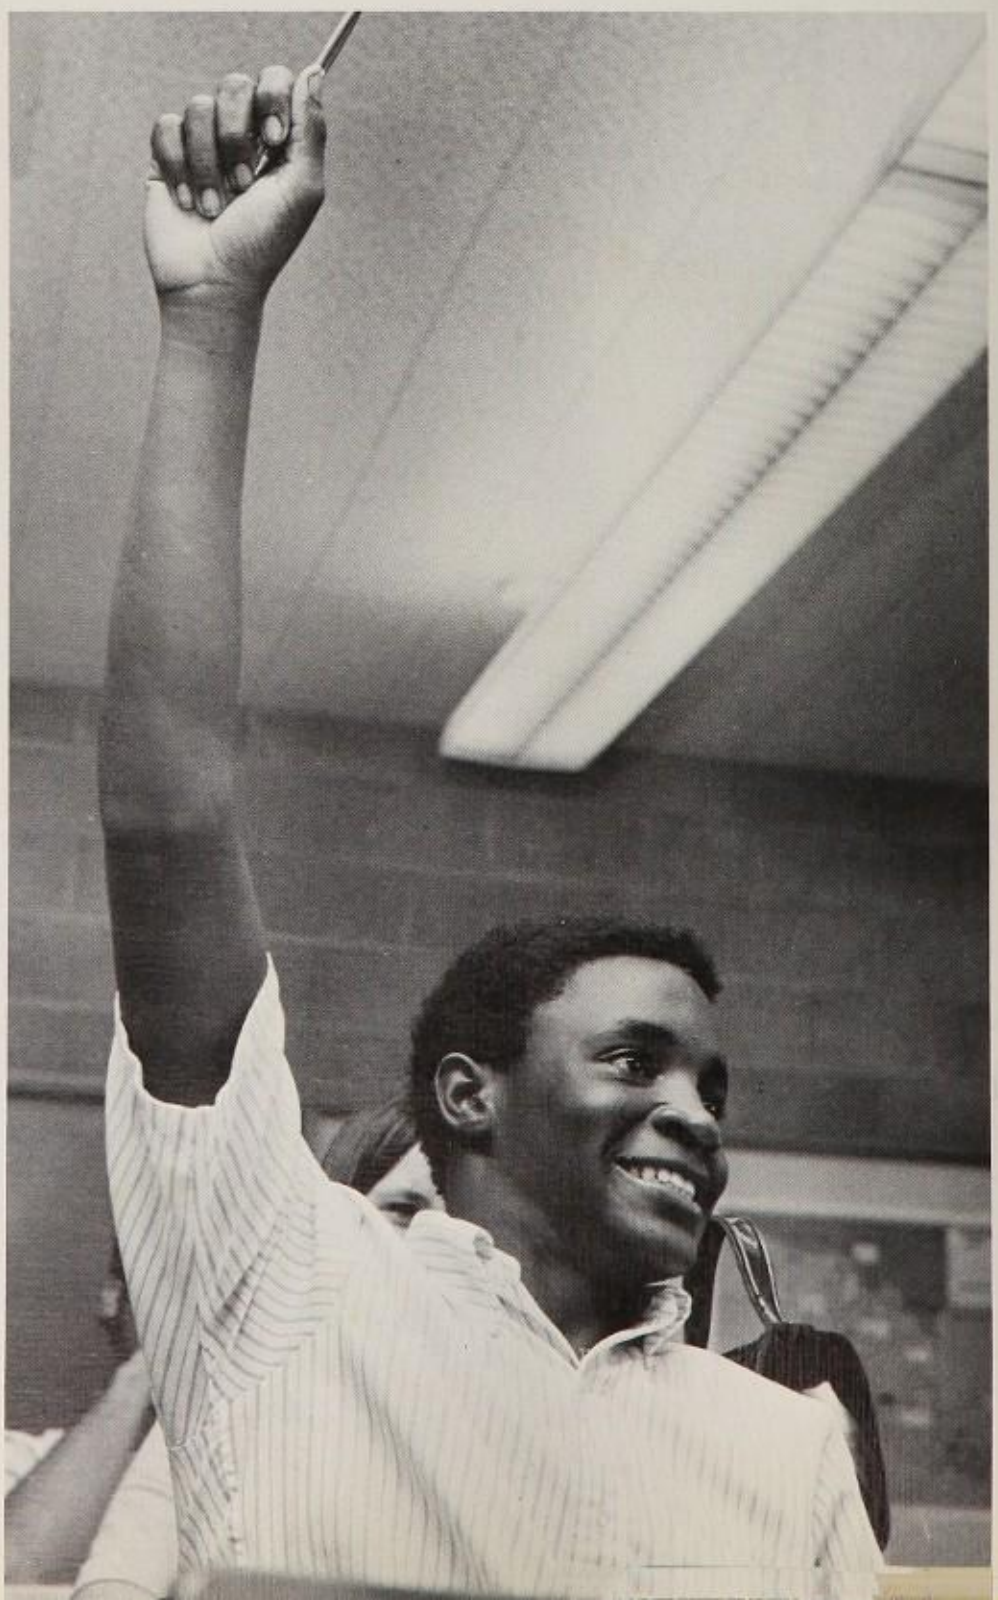


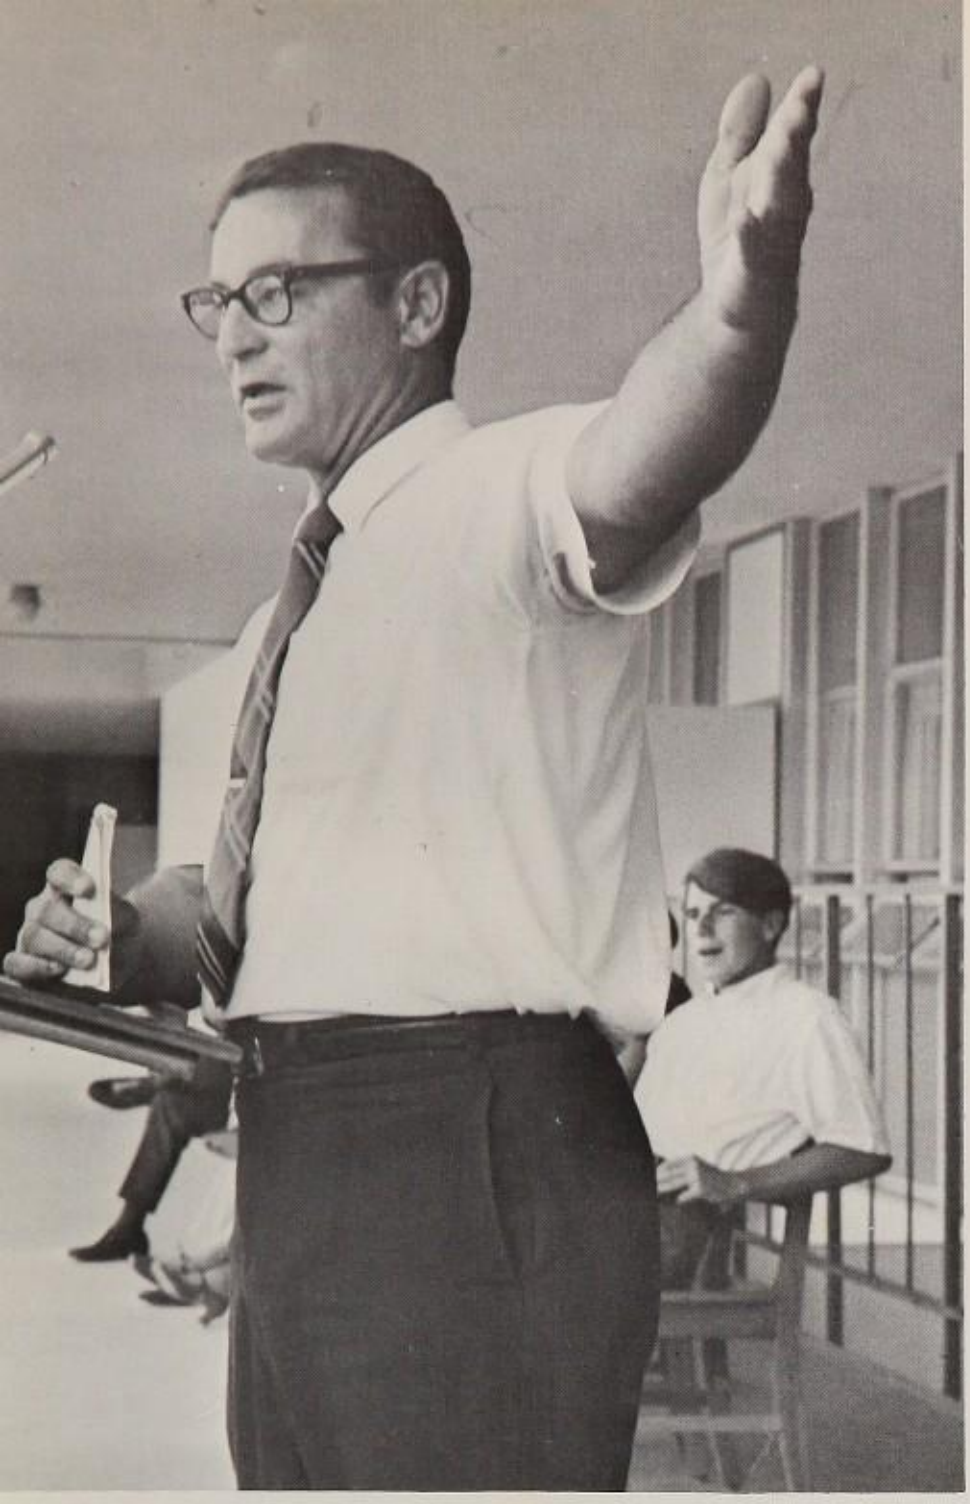
Tommy,

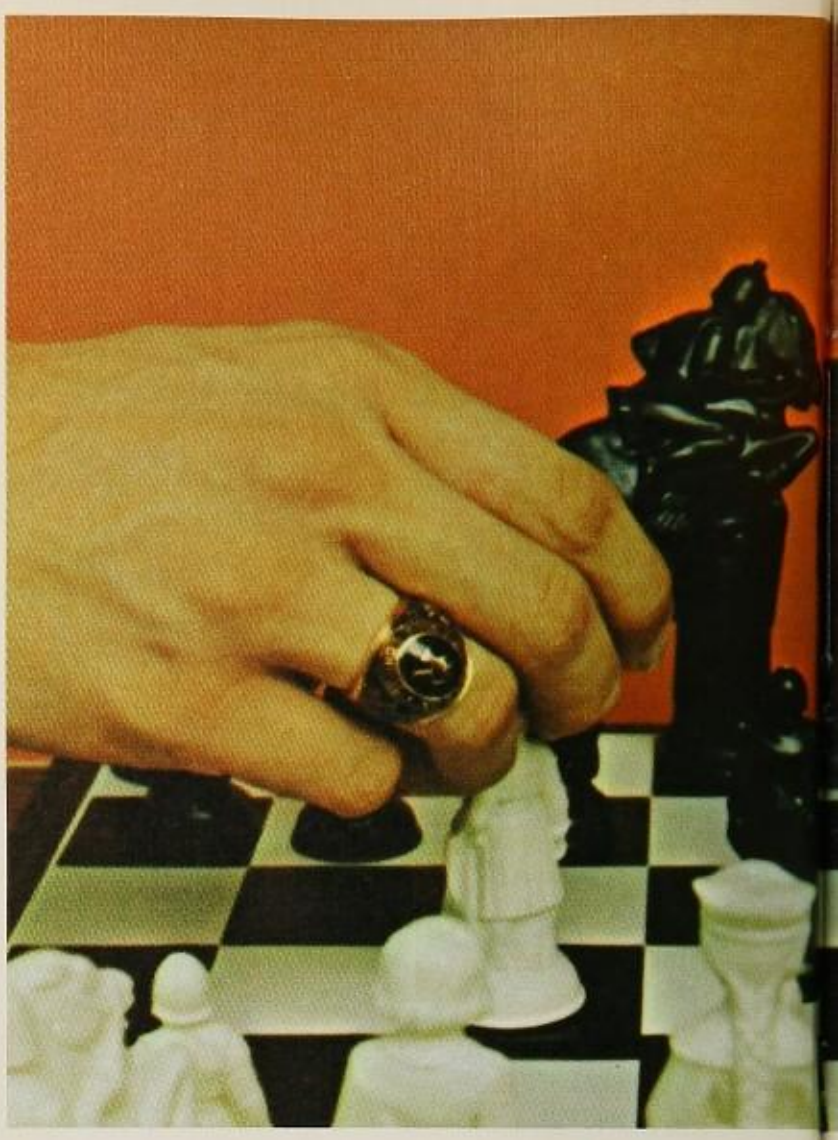
It is great to be able to say you are my friend. You are one of the few people that I can really depend on. I know you would do anything I asked you. I hope you graduate pretty soon and don't have to stay around this dump any longer than necessary. Don't change and I hope you become a world champ on the waves.

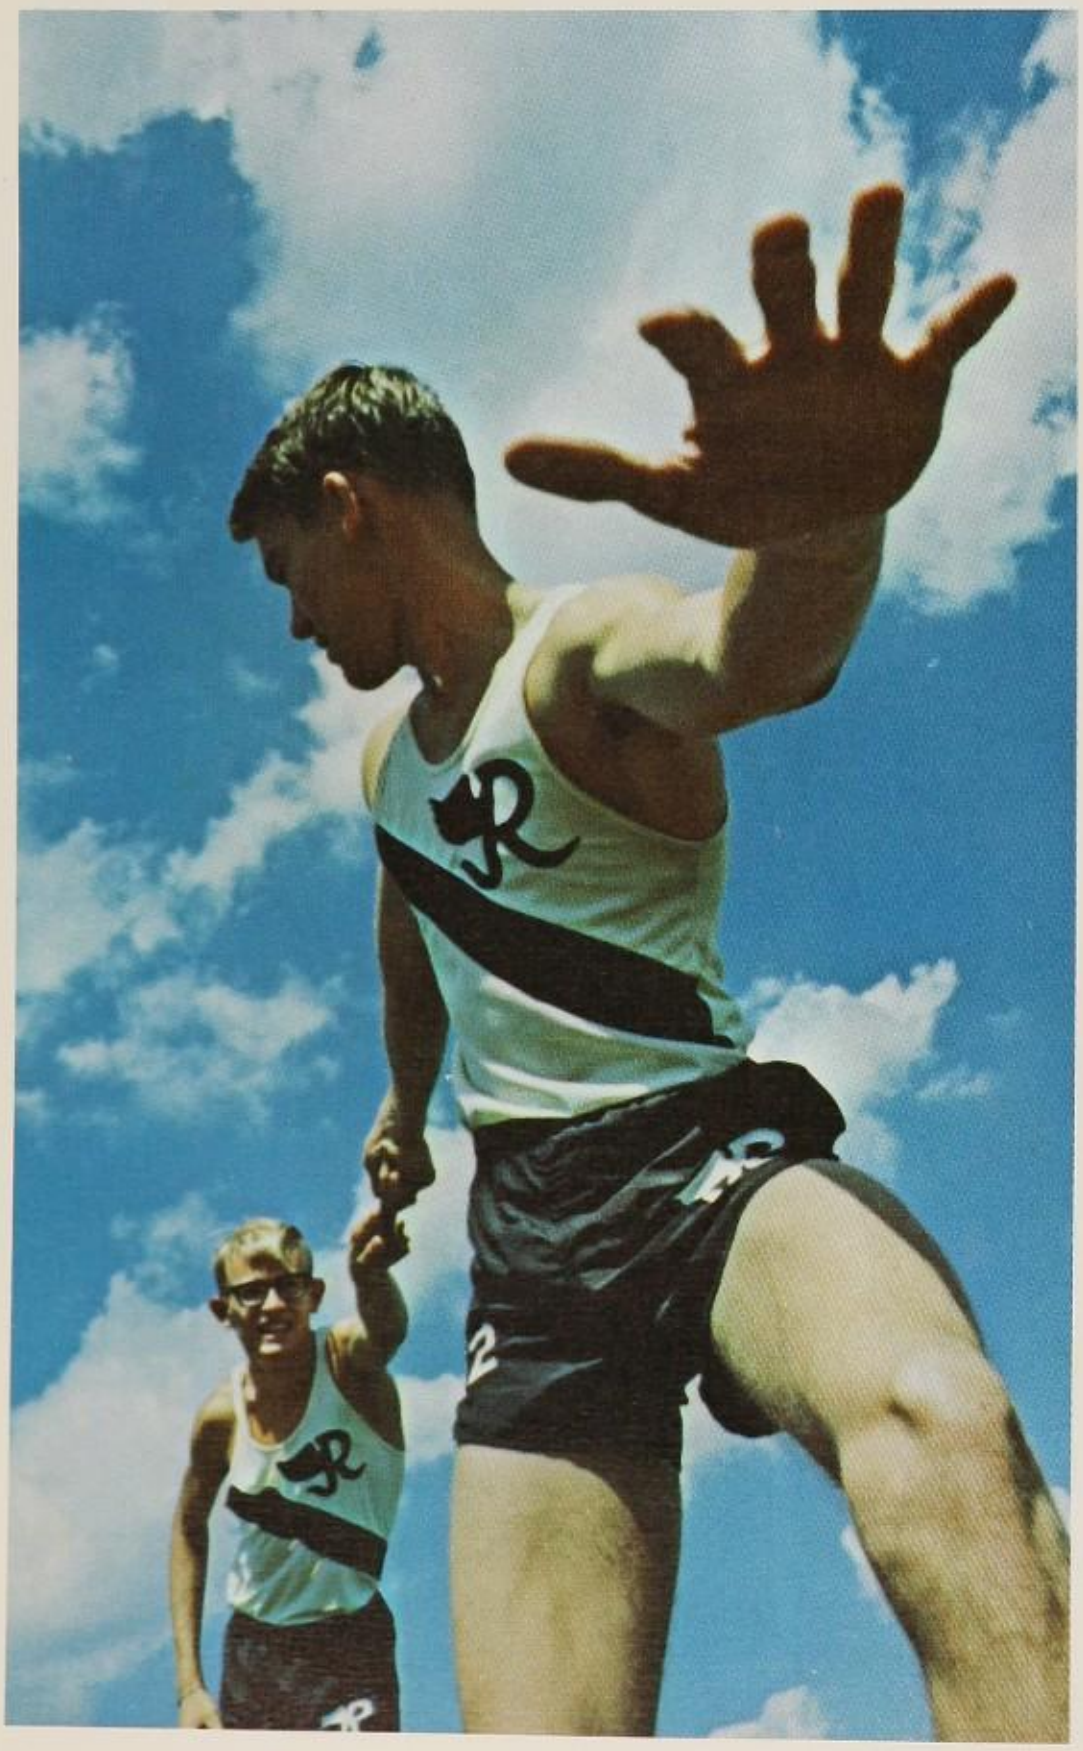
Jim

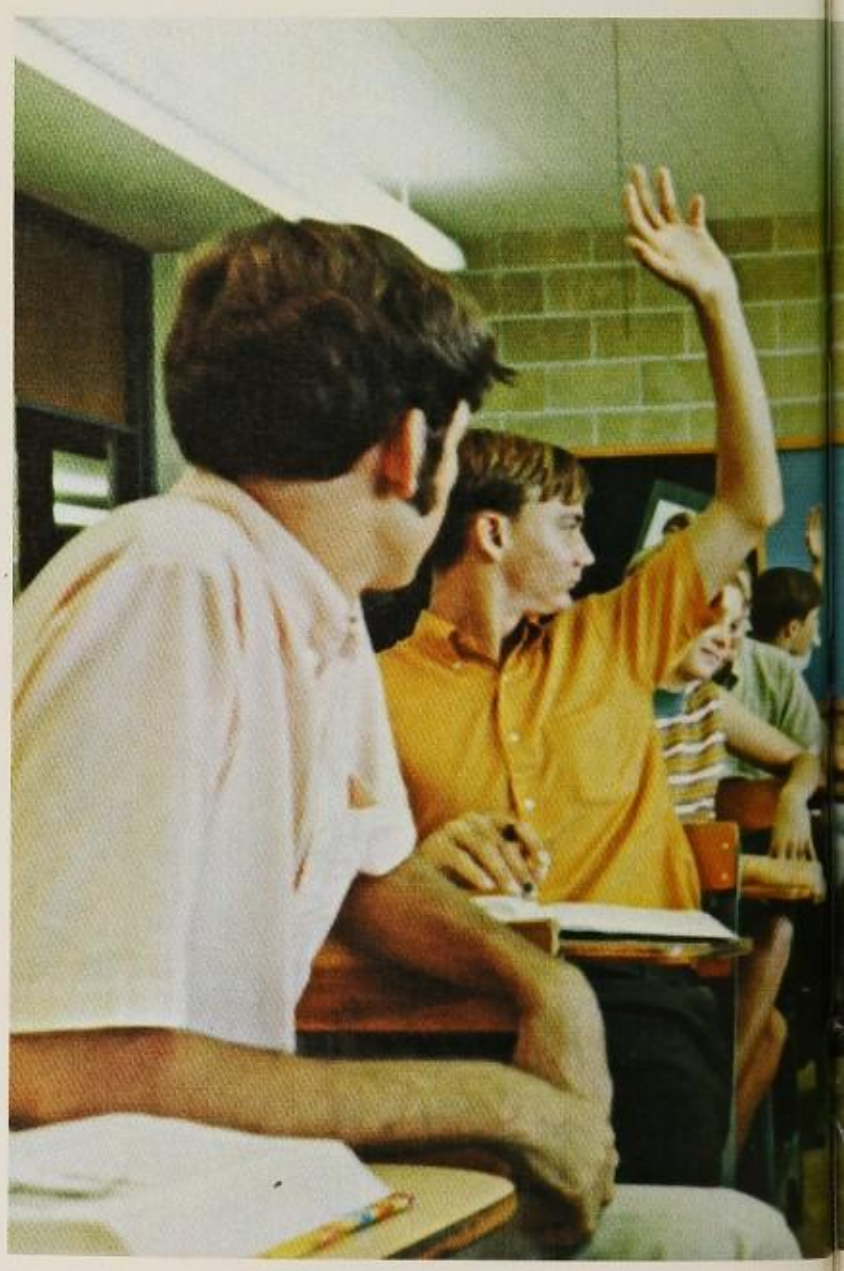
Triumph comes not only when the game ends.
We taste it briefly time after time.
Hands reach out to help us make the next move,
And to point out the goals worth reaching –
The treasures for which the game is played.





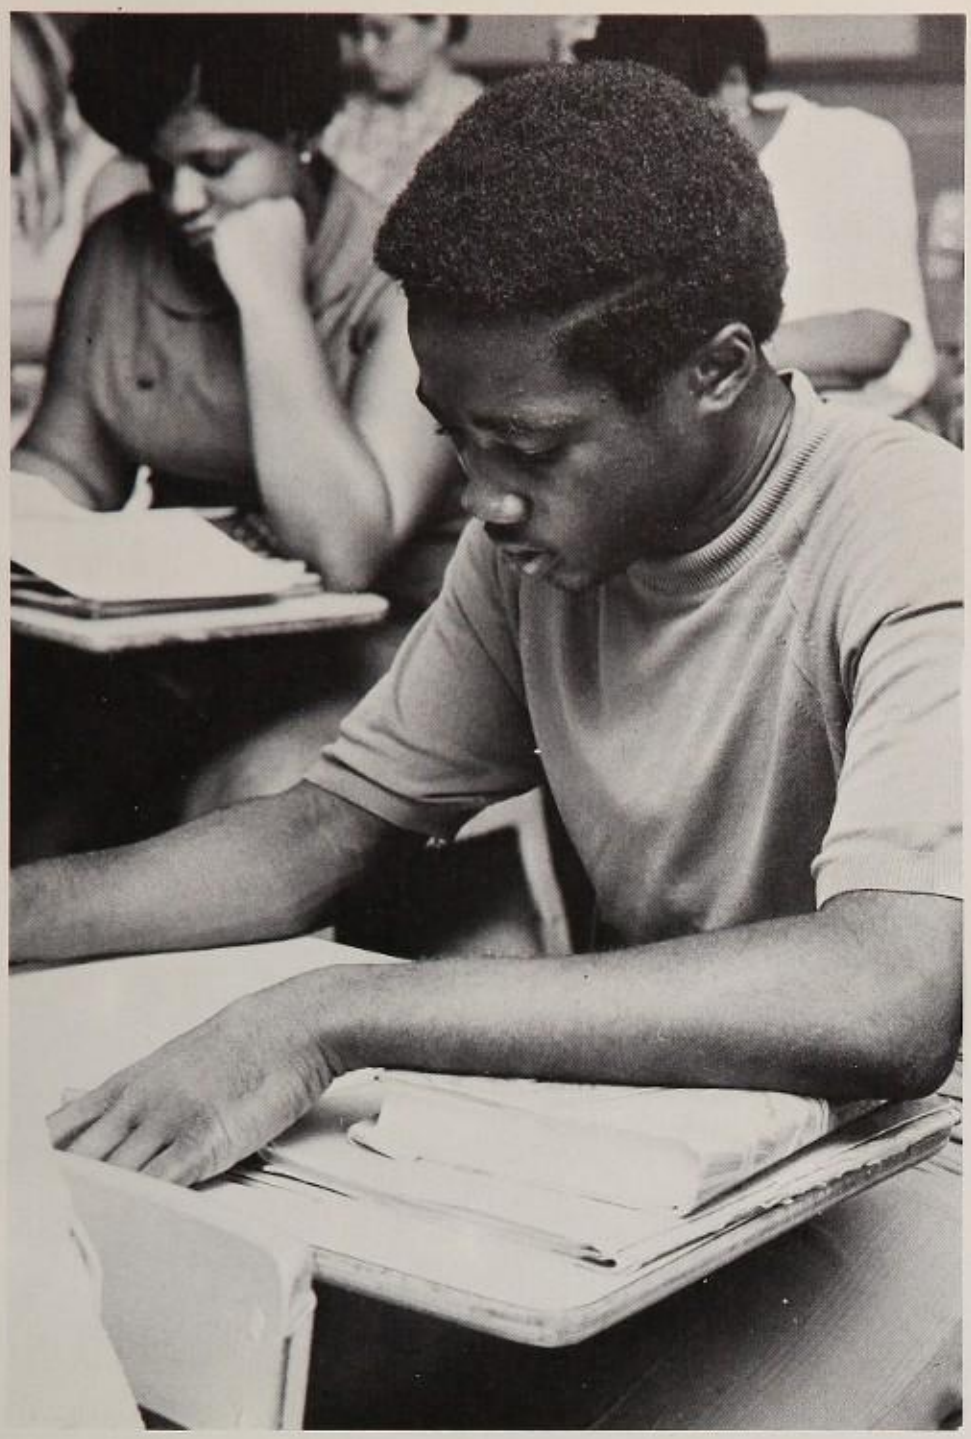


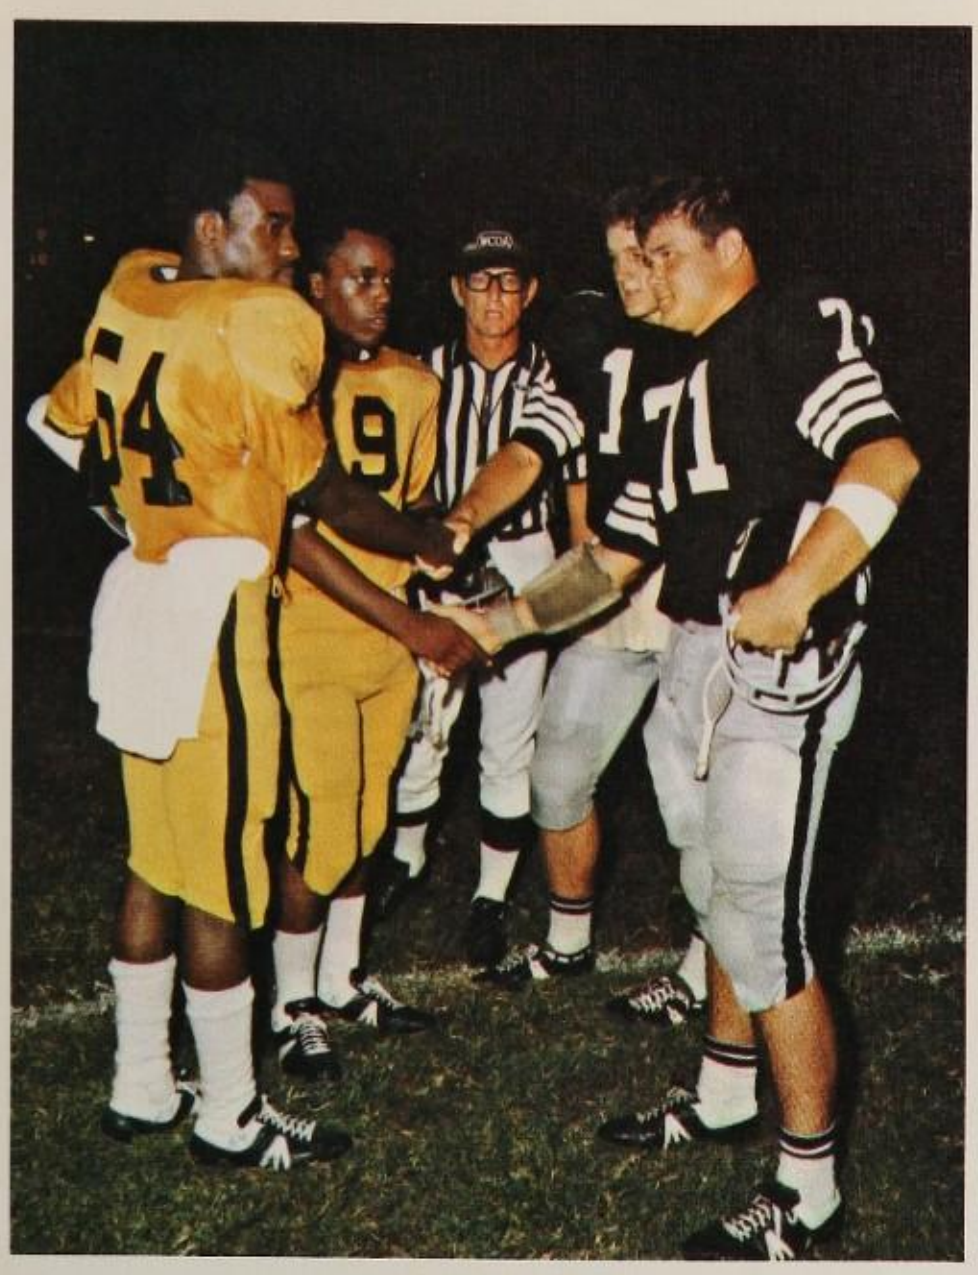




Life itself is a constant teacher.
We learn from everything that touches us.
Through each move in the game,
We reach for truth and wisdom.

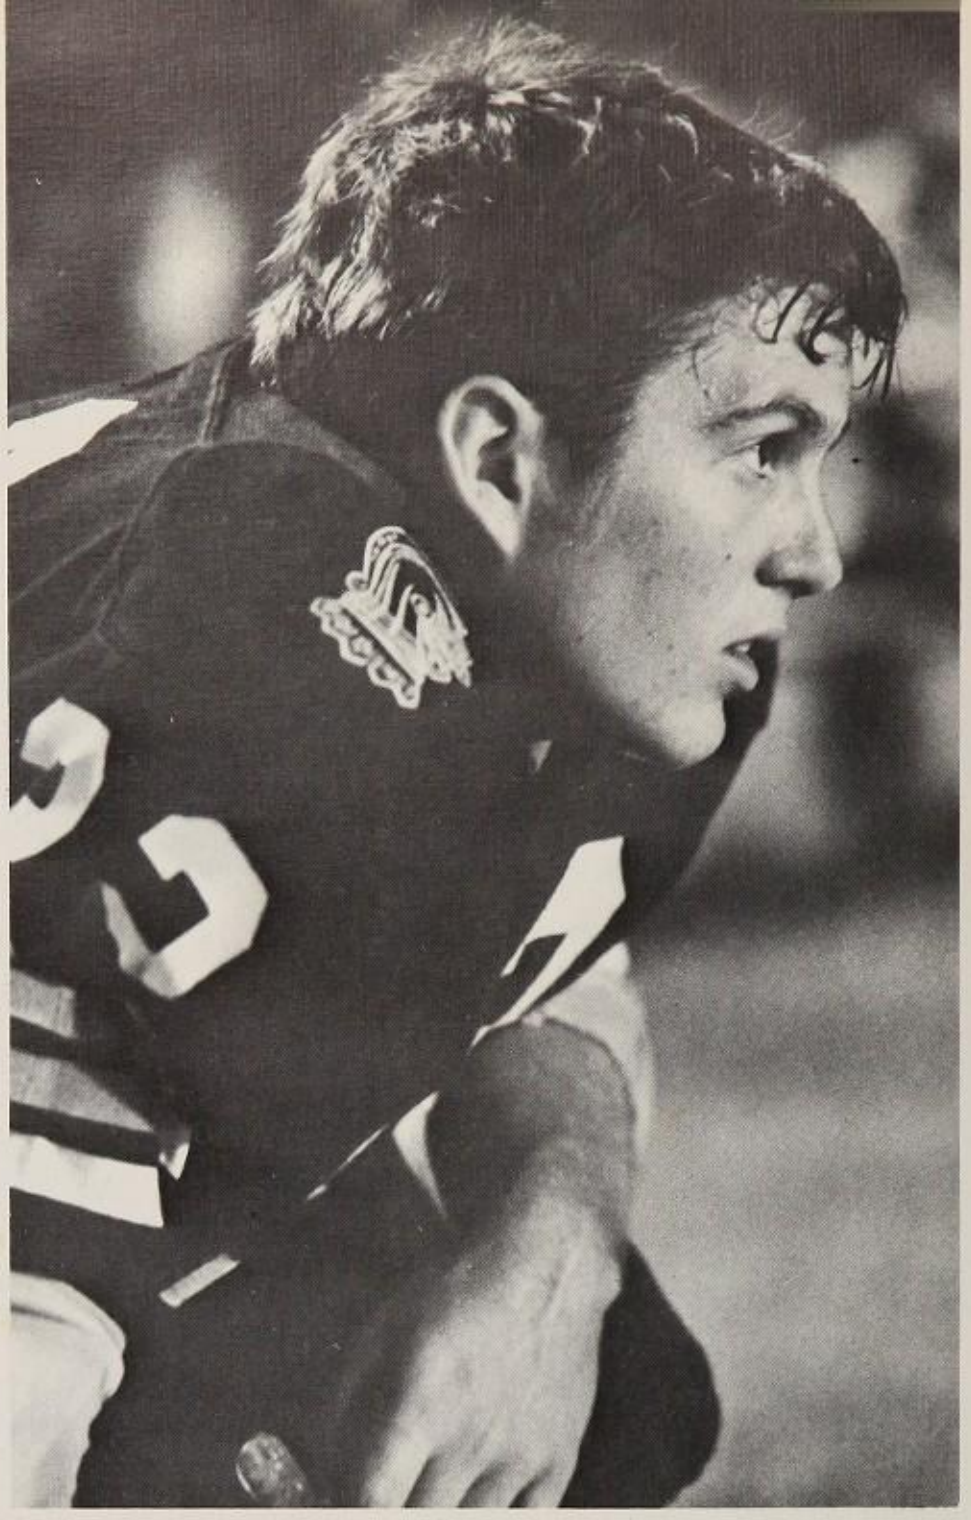
We move not only for our own benefit.
As groups, we are part of a larger game.
Friends work and play together,
Sharing serious moments as well as laughter,
Growing in understanding.
And our togetherness expands its circle until no one is excluded.

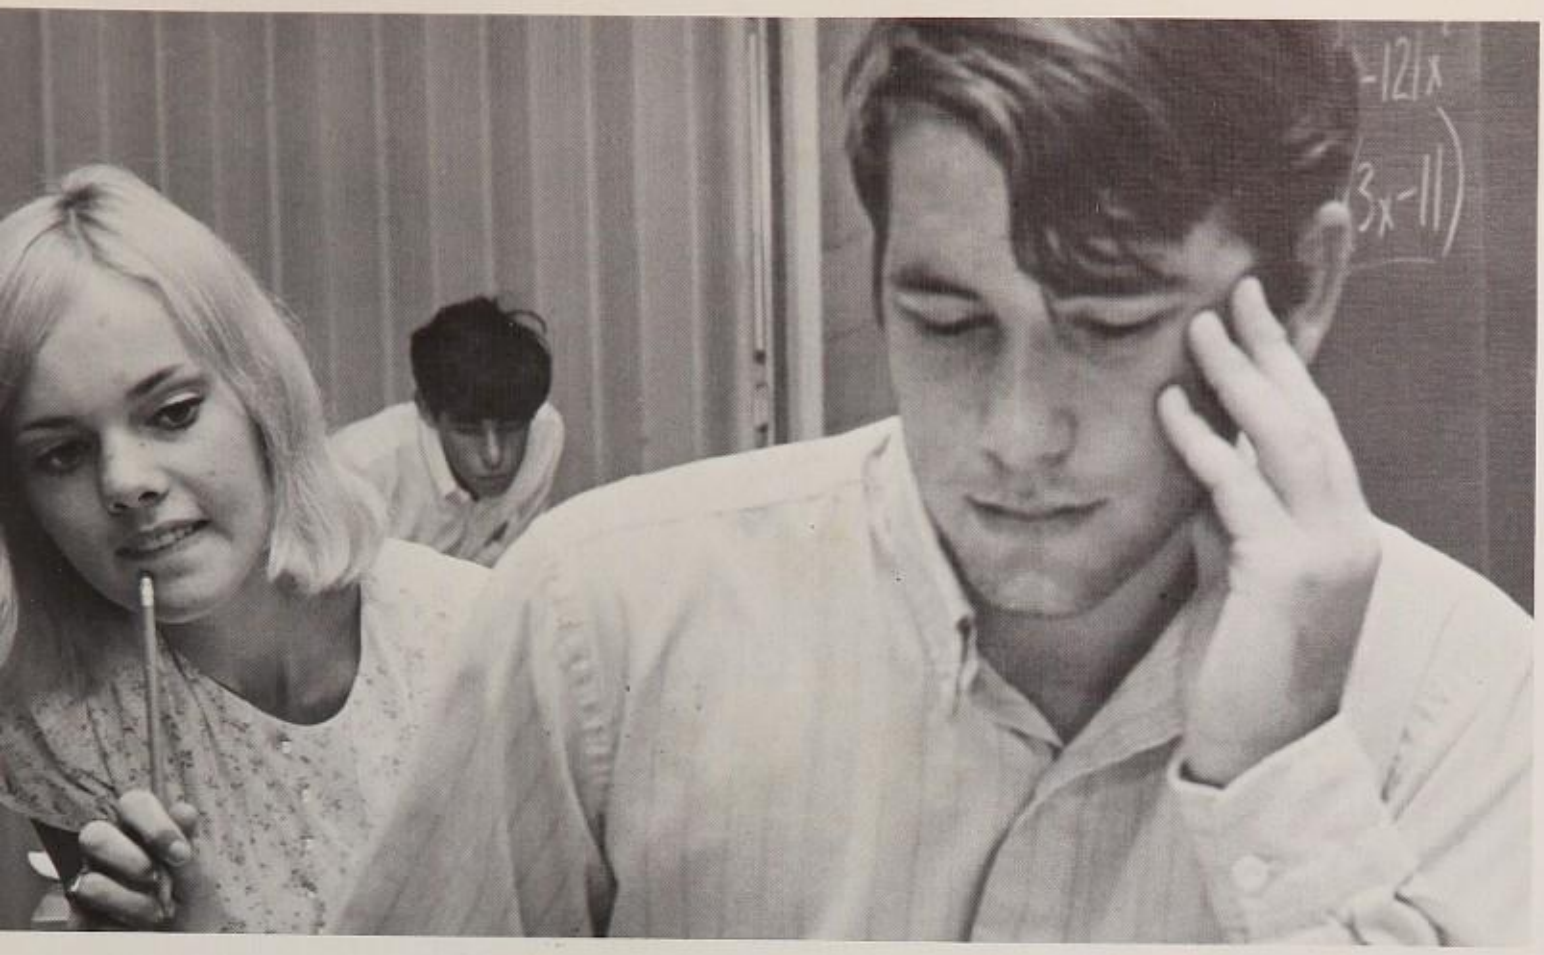


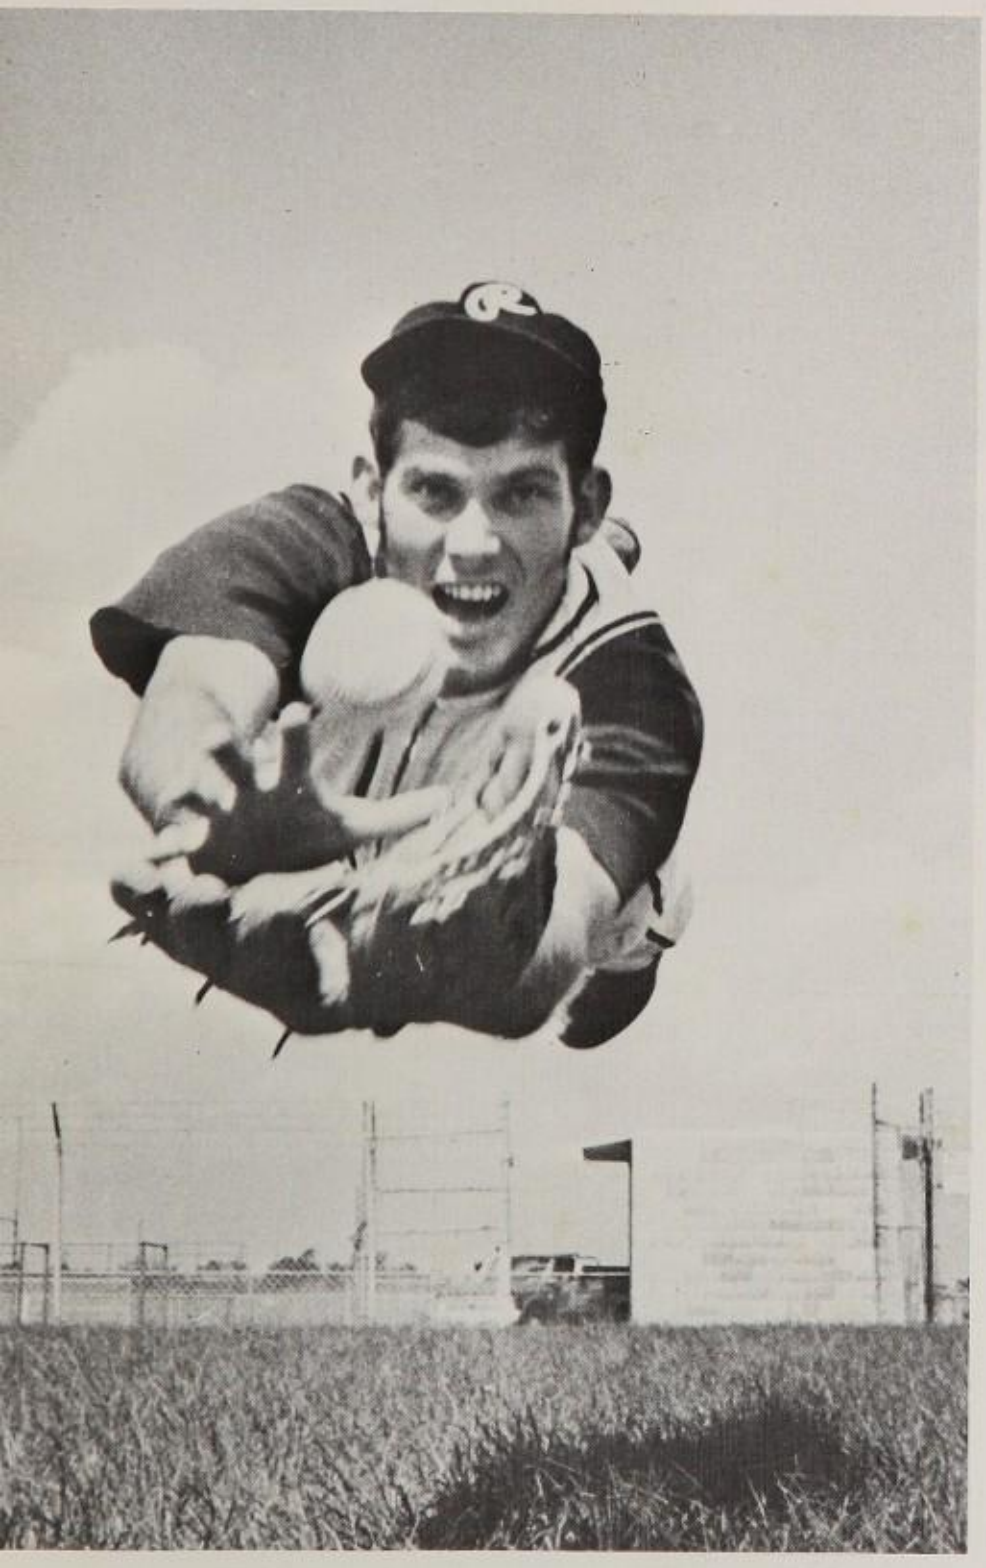


We play not only for ourselves.
The love and trust of others give us added impetus.
No player can stand long alone.
A smile, a word, a handshake or a kiss –
Make the whole thing possible,
Make the game worth playing.

We play games not only with our minds.
Our youth and life pour out in the desire to be victors.
Wet with the sweat of effort, and perhaps with tears,
We struggle proudly. Regardless of the outcome,
Our strength increases for future battles.







We withdraw from the game to private worlds.
Each soul instinctively turns to beauty,
And responds to the healing peace of stars,
The hope of morning. Discovering truth,
We learn to be true to ourselves and others.

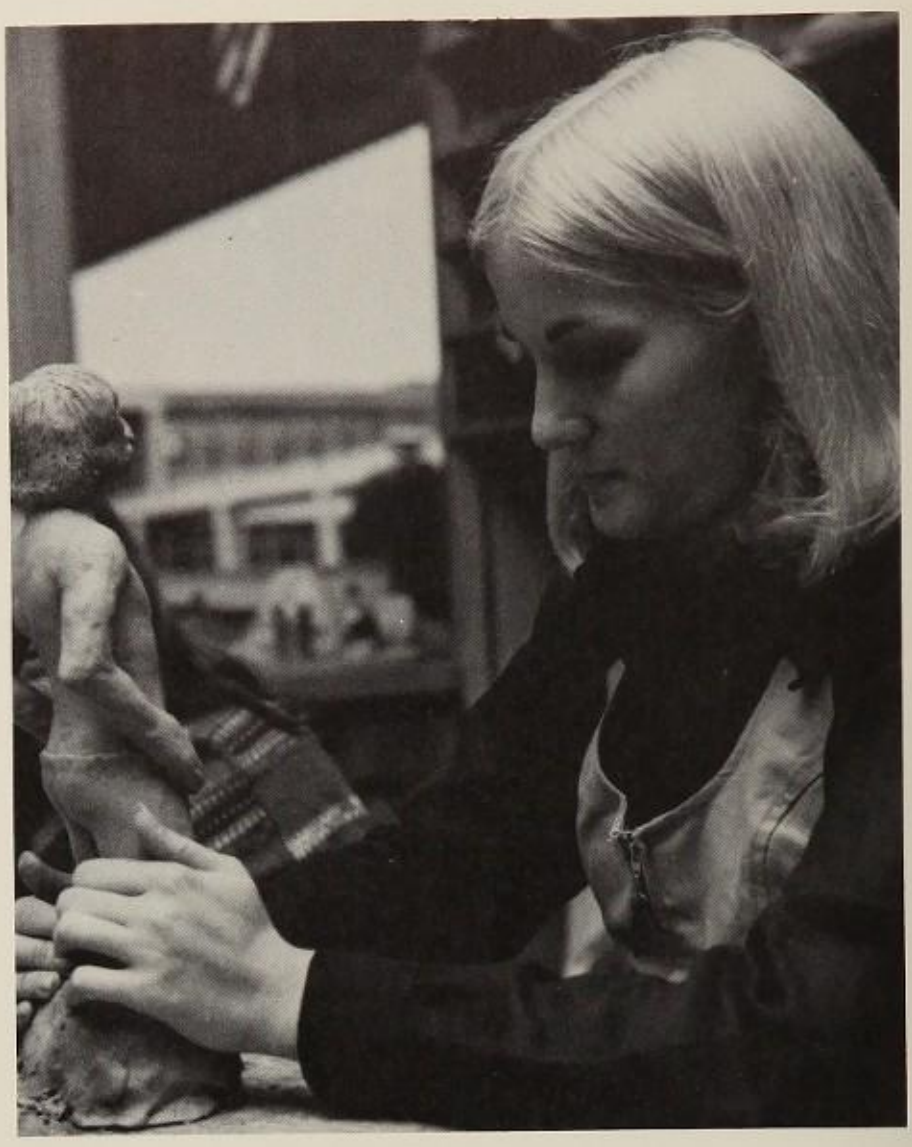
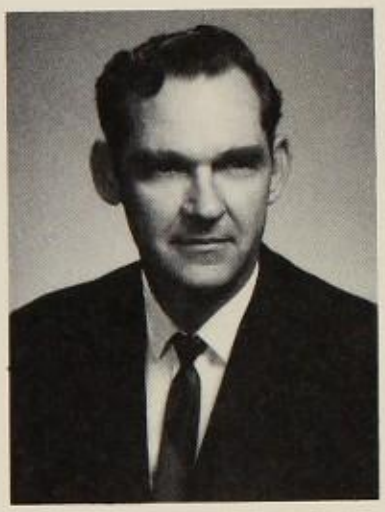
Bonita Toussaint places one of her paintings on the colorful bulletin board used as a display for students' work.



Students find satisfaction expressed as art creation

ART . . . finding out that it's not necessary to be able to draw a straight line . . . experimenting with copper tooling . . . experiencing success with water colors for the first time . . . having Friday drawings in on time . . . making giant Christmas cards to add a touch of spirit to the campus . . . finding the right kind of glaze for that "special" ashtray . . . watching with awe as Mr. King and Mr. Clark demonstrate new techniques . . . working on special projects that take more than a little effort . . . displaying the students' works of art in various offices of the school . . . getting the first crack at trying ceramics . . . learning what satisfaction is when getting a 4 . . . molding a lump of clay into a masterpiece.



William King
U. of Alabama
MA

Colette Mullaney, one of the few Art IV students, makes a successful attempt to conquer the medium of clay.

Diane Kreuzkamp finds the patience and skill needed to sew her own clothes in Home Ec.'s clothing and textile class.

Home Economics sparks attention to better homes

HOME ECONOMICS . . . learning what is in every cabinet . . . experiencing the joy of making one's first dress . . . gaining important information about first aid . . . filling the school with delightful aromas . . . getting that last stitch in just right . . . finding out how necessary good grooming is . . . remembering to turn the oven on . . . learning helpful hints that will make a happier and healthier home . . . keeping up to date with the latest fashions . . . constructing a time table . . . planning nourishing diets . . . sewing with the newest fabrics . . . enjoying the beauty of the lessons on child development . . . having a taffy pull . . . making family budgets . . . preparing for the role of homemaker.

Brenda Liford memorizes the contents of each kitchen cabinet as an assignment for first year Home Ec. students.

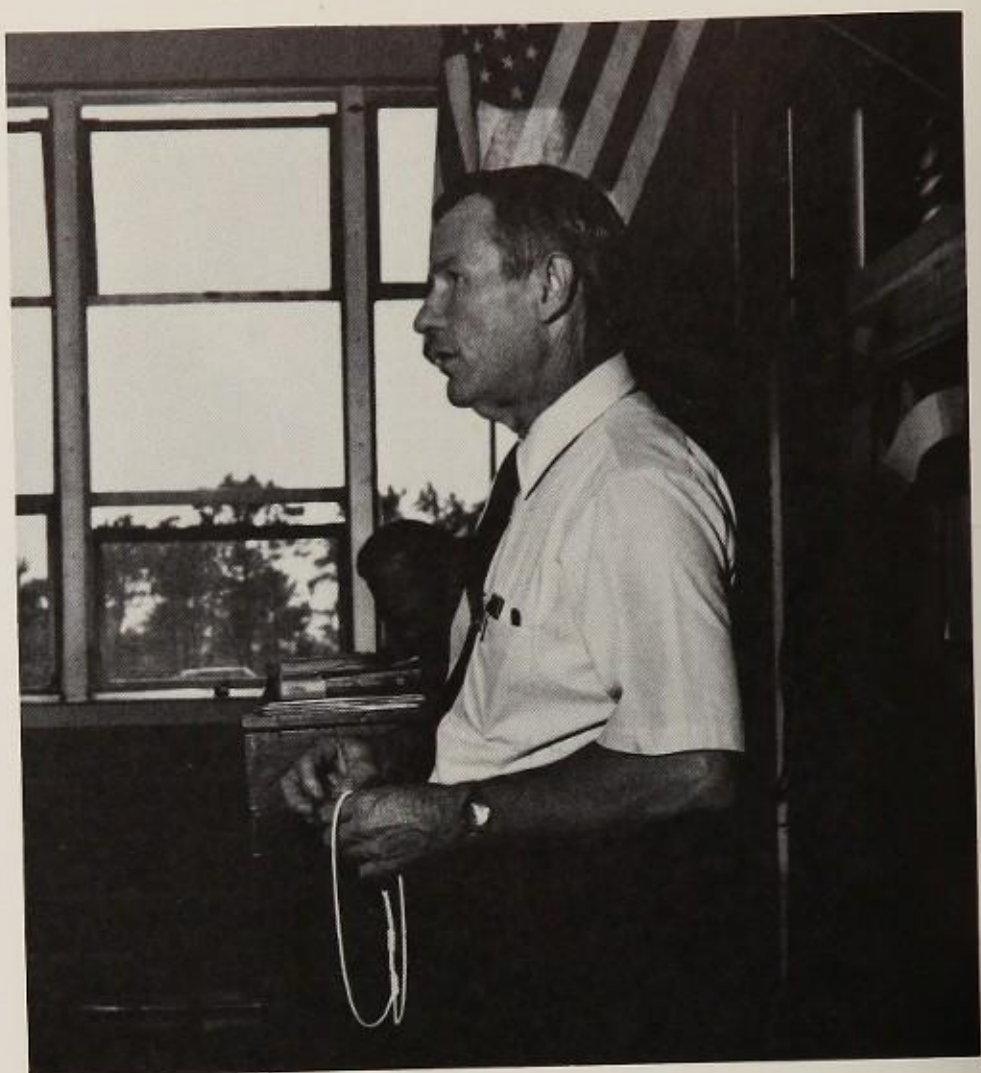
Music classes entertain, enliven and enrich RHS

MUSIC . . . working to bring their gift of sound to the highest peak of perfection . . . bringing enjoyment and happiness to others . . . practicing to hit the high notes as well as the low . . . going to contest . . . discovering miracles through Mrs. Munford and Mr. Whitehead, the new directors . . . executing well-planned shows for the entertainment of the public . . . striving toward perfection through long hours of hard practice . . . learning new methods . . . bringing home an excellent rating from contest.

Mr. Whitehead takes a few minutes to talk seriously about contest.



Choraliers give their all in spirit to RHS in song.

BM – EP

Mrs. Munford directs en thusiastically during a popu lar song.

Vicki Knowles and Steve Wyatt direct the class in defensive driving.

Driver Education teaches defensive driving practices

DRIVER EDUCATION . . . Combining range skills with classroom studies . . . learning the correct way to execute range maneuvers . . . taking the depth perception and braking reaction tests . . . seeing films which illustrate the importance of defensive driving . . . doing chapter reviews . . . putting range skills into practice in outside driving time . . . keeping a notebook and current events pertaining to automobile safety . . . listening to lectures from visiting highway patrolmen . . . exhibiting the knowledge learned to provide tomorrow's highways with safe and courteous drivers.

Mr. Gene King instructs Lane Hiers in the proper use of safety equipment.

Sally Clark checks her range position before executing maneuvers.

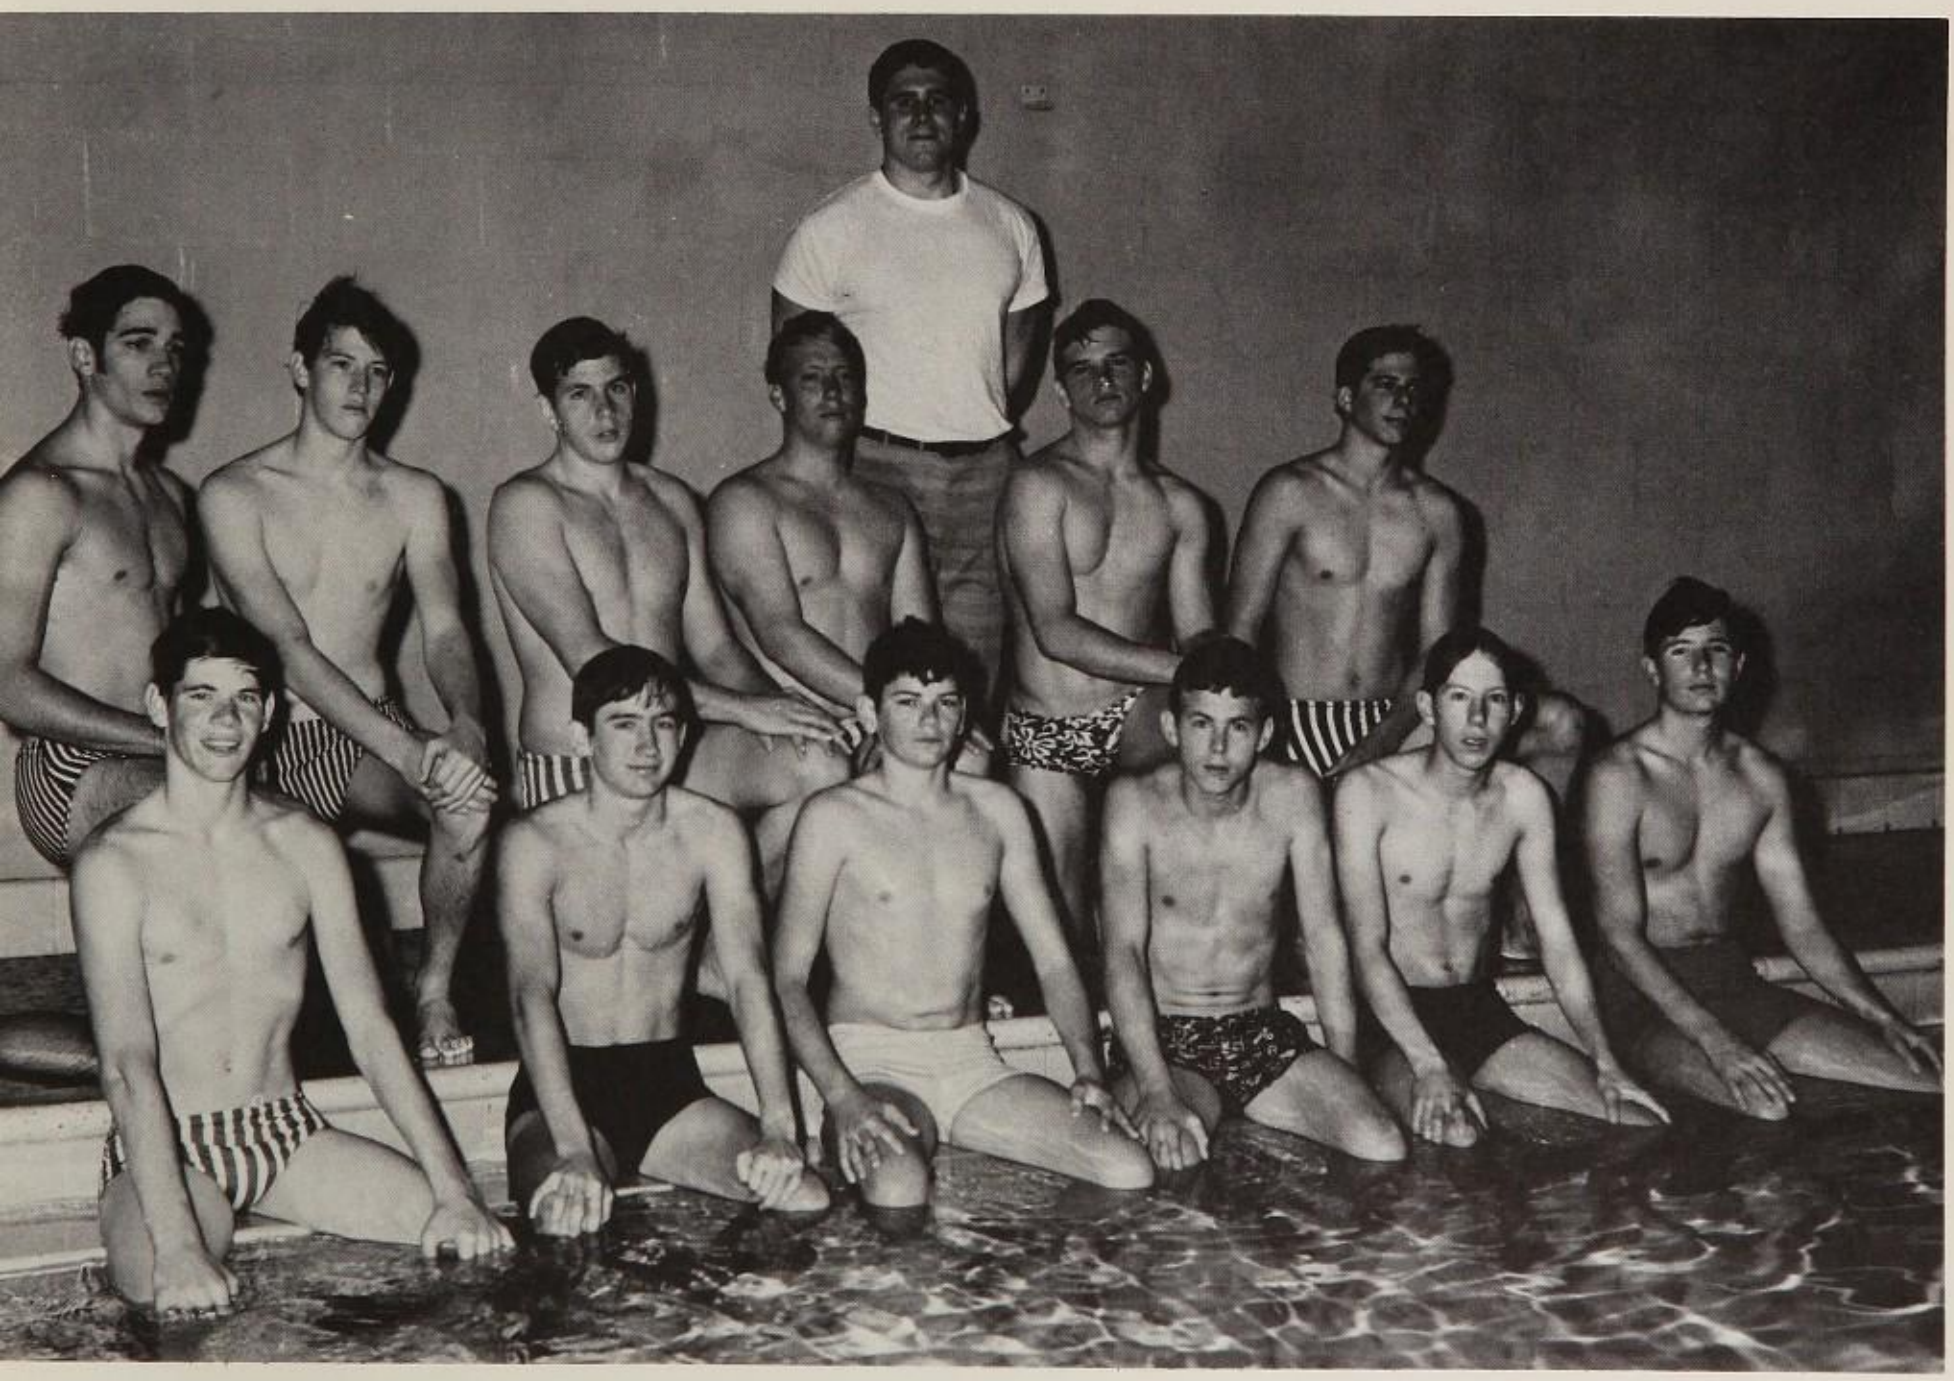
Mike Johnson comes up for a breather as he performs winning breaststroke with precision and ease.

Tankers encounter rivals as spirited season begins

SWIMMING . . . starting the season with a new coach, Mr. Clark . . . looking forward to a big season . . . driving to early morning practices at the Boys' Club pool . . . experiencing pain while trying to attain ability . . . being mistaken for an iceberg . . . working out a leg cramp . . . competing against tough opponents . . . earning the well deserved victory . . . displaying skill . . . striving for perfection . . . learning the fundamentals of each stroke . . . practicing hard in hopes of sending tankers to State . . . working out with the exer-geni to develop strength and stamina . . . freezing in fifty degree weather . . . accomplishing all of this for Robinson.

Brad Lane displays the correct form for the event.

Big Tom,
Did a good job in diving (for awhile (?) a lot of potention — bravo too! Surfs Up! "Waikaro Man"; ed the Lover of the "Happy-diggys" in your History Class!
Good Luck — Summer Blond.
Coach Clark



Bottom Row: B. Duncan, J. Pritchard, R. Barres, D. Mitchell, B. Finerman, G. Robinson. Top Row: M. Johnson, J. Foster, L. Duval, B. Diehl, Coach Clark, K. Banks, B. Lane.

Gripping the pole tightly, Larry Helms gathers enough speed in his approach to easily sail inches over the bar.

RHS cindermen compete, showing distinctive skills

TRACK . . . performing under the leadership of Coach Dick Carlson . . . looking forward to the first meet . . . spending hours building stamina . . . running as fast as possible to beat the clock . . . trying again and shaving off a few more seconds . . . muscles aching from the strain . . . developing arms for the needed distance in the shot and discus . . . stretching leg muscles to clear the hurdles . . . lungs burning from the long hours running in the cold . . . having leg cramps that won't quit . . . competing against your own teammates to have the best time . . . practicing until dusk everyday . . . striving to clear the bar in the pole vault and high jump including every extra inch it's moved higher . . . hoping to have a winning season again for Robinson.

Coach Tom Mahin and head Coach Dick Carlson smile over the outcome of a race in which RHS was victorious.

Bottom Row: D. Miller, L. Helms, J. Mitchell, V. Holmes, H. Jones, M. Simson. Middle Row: C. Higginbotham, W. Baldwin, T. Lentz, S. Moore, D. Floyd. Top Row: D. Harrison, L. Scott, D. Howton, J. Blair.

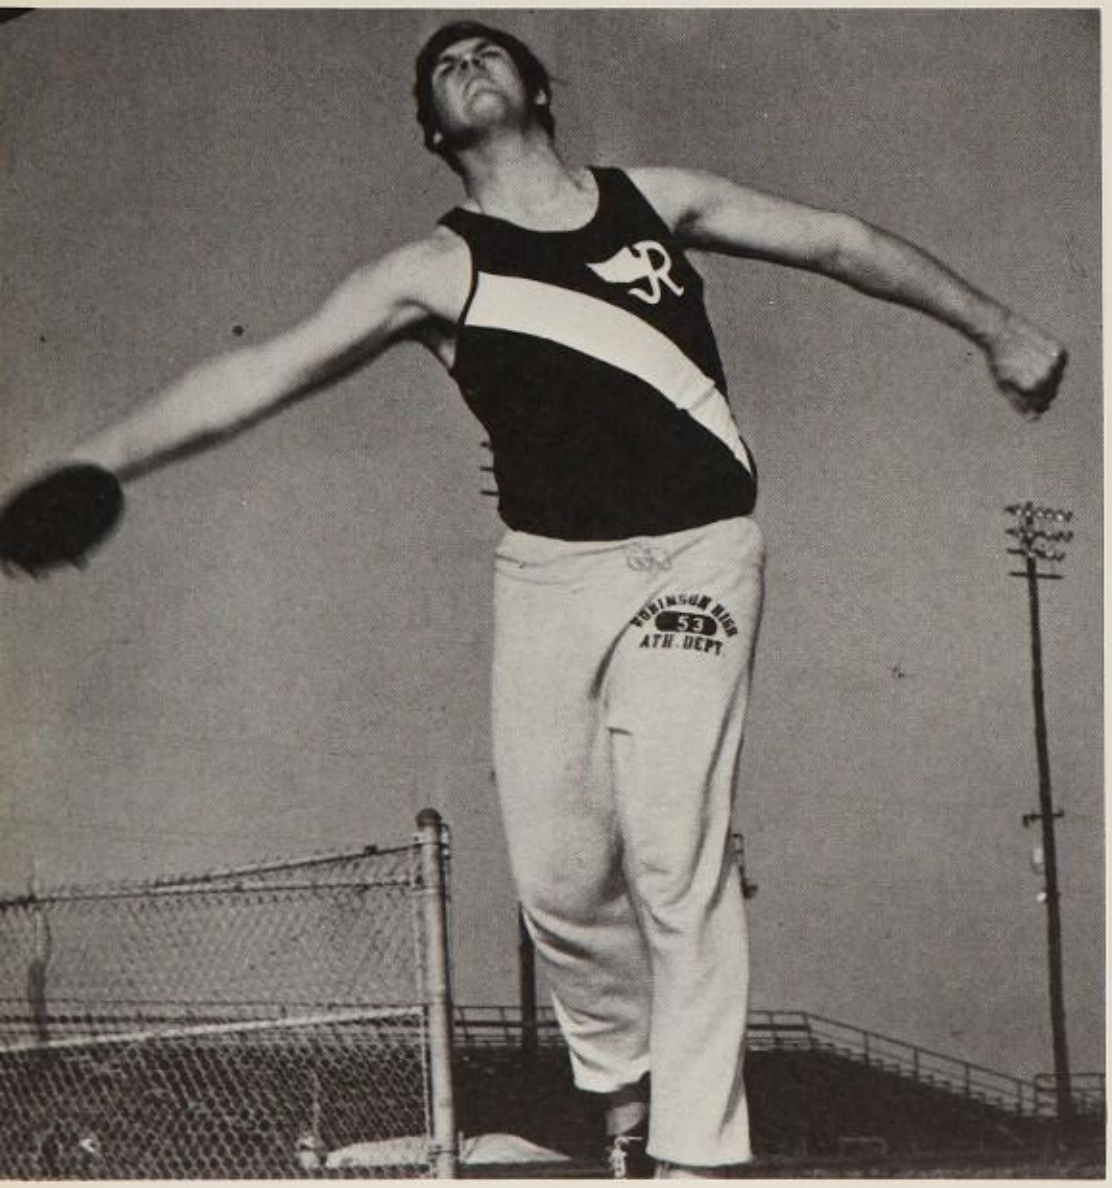
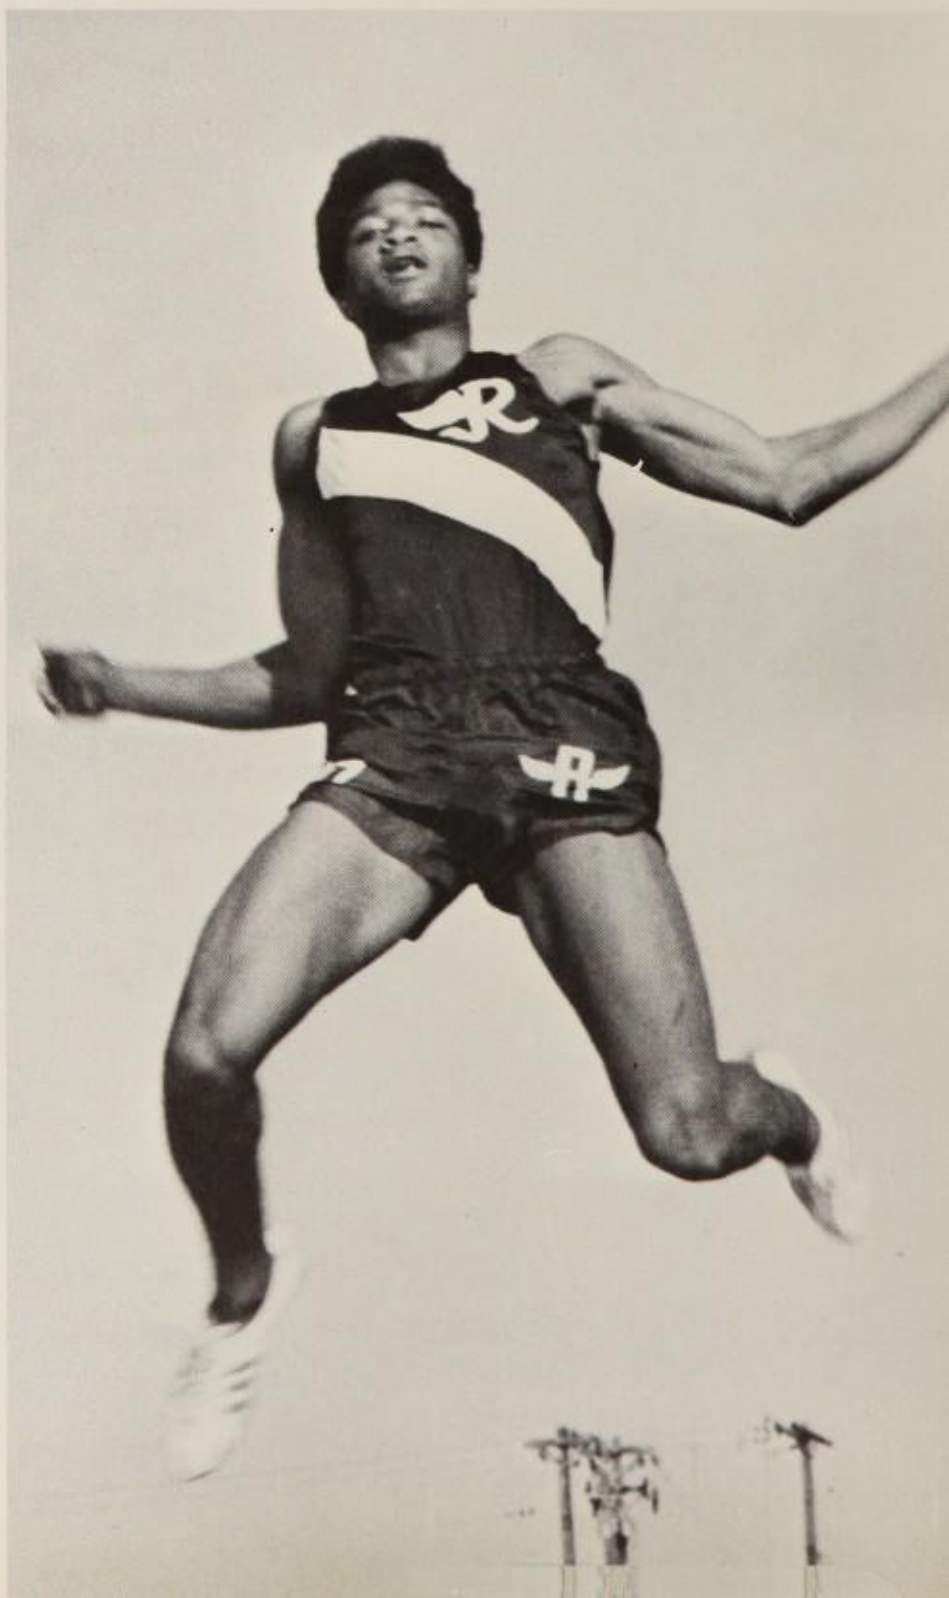
Steve Moore easily clears the high jump bar with room to spare when it is set at five feet and eleven inches.



Senior letterman James Blair gives a sample of the power needed to hurl the discus a record setting distance.



While flying through the air, Morris LaGrand wiggles his body for the extra inches in the running broad jump.

Herman Daniels, Andrew McBride, and Loren Scott practice to attain the speed and agility needed in an important meet.

Davis Floyd surveys the distance he must run in the 100 yard dash while waiting for the starting gun to sound.

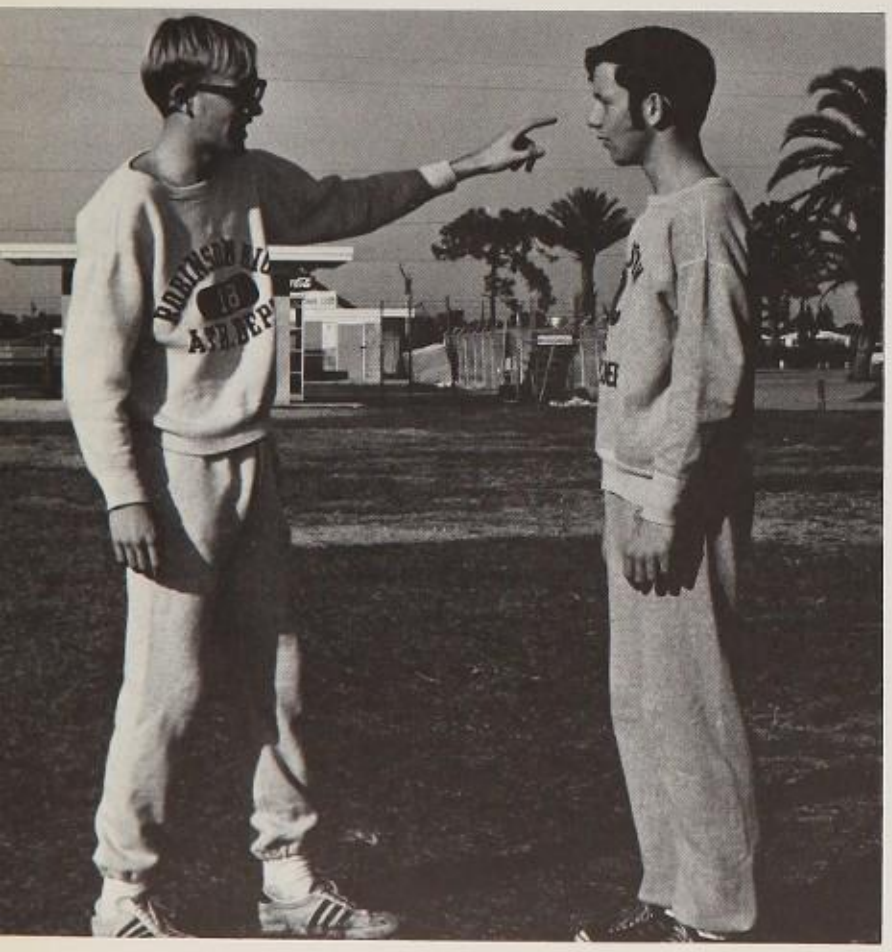
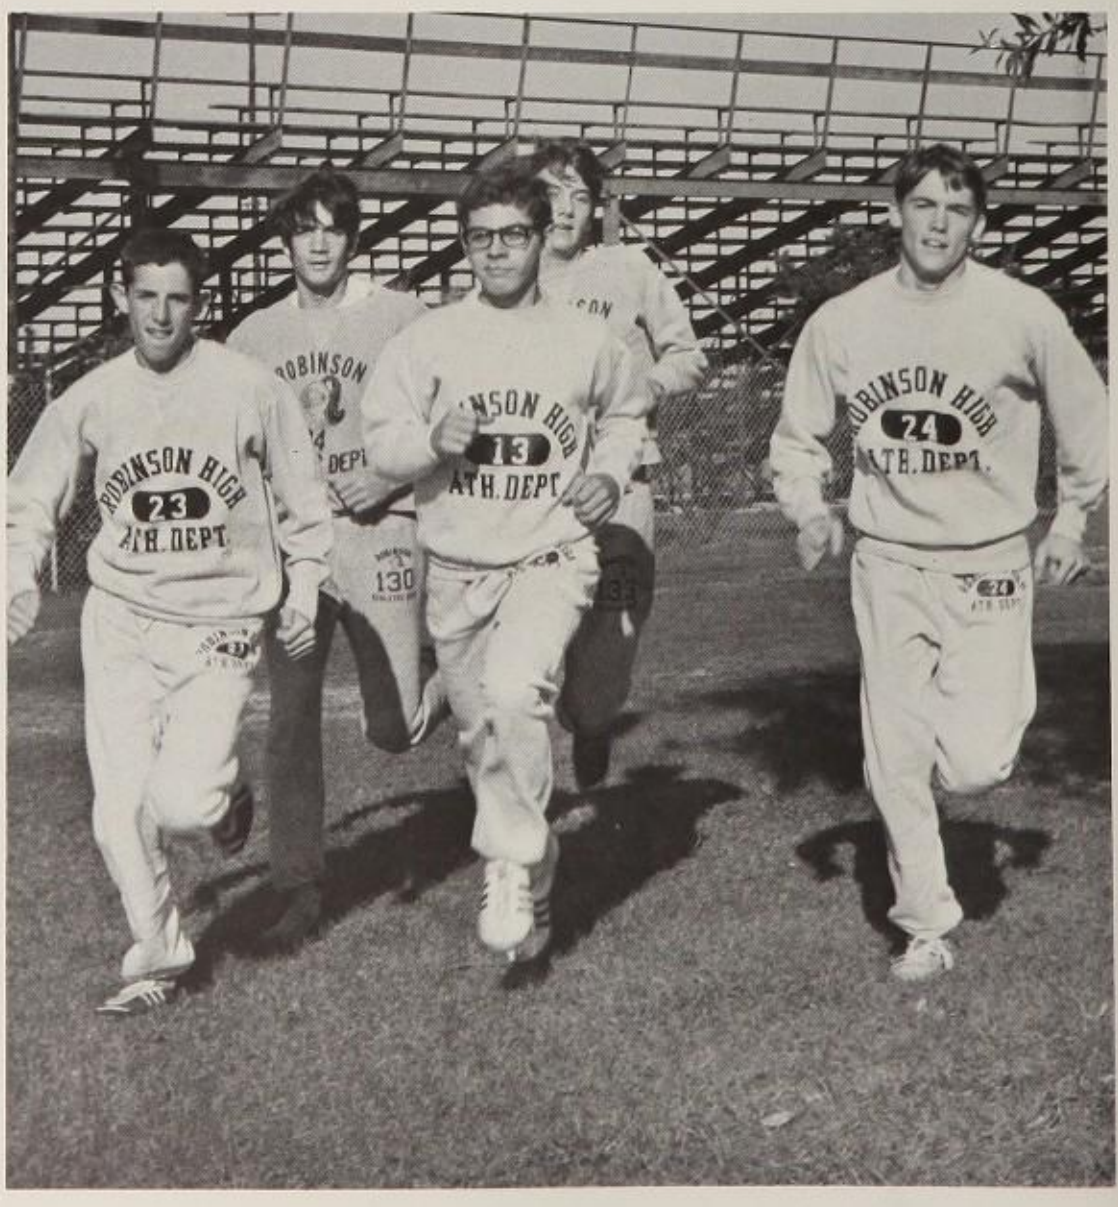
1st Cross Country squad finds place in state finals

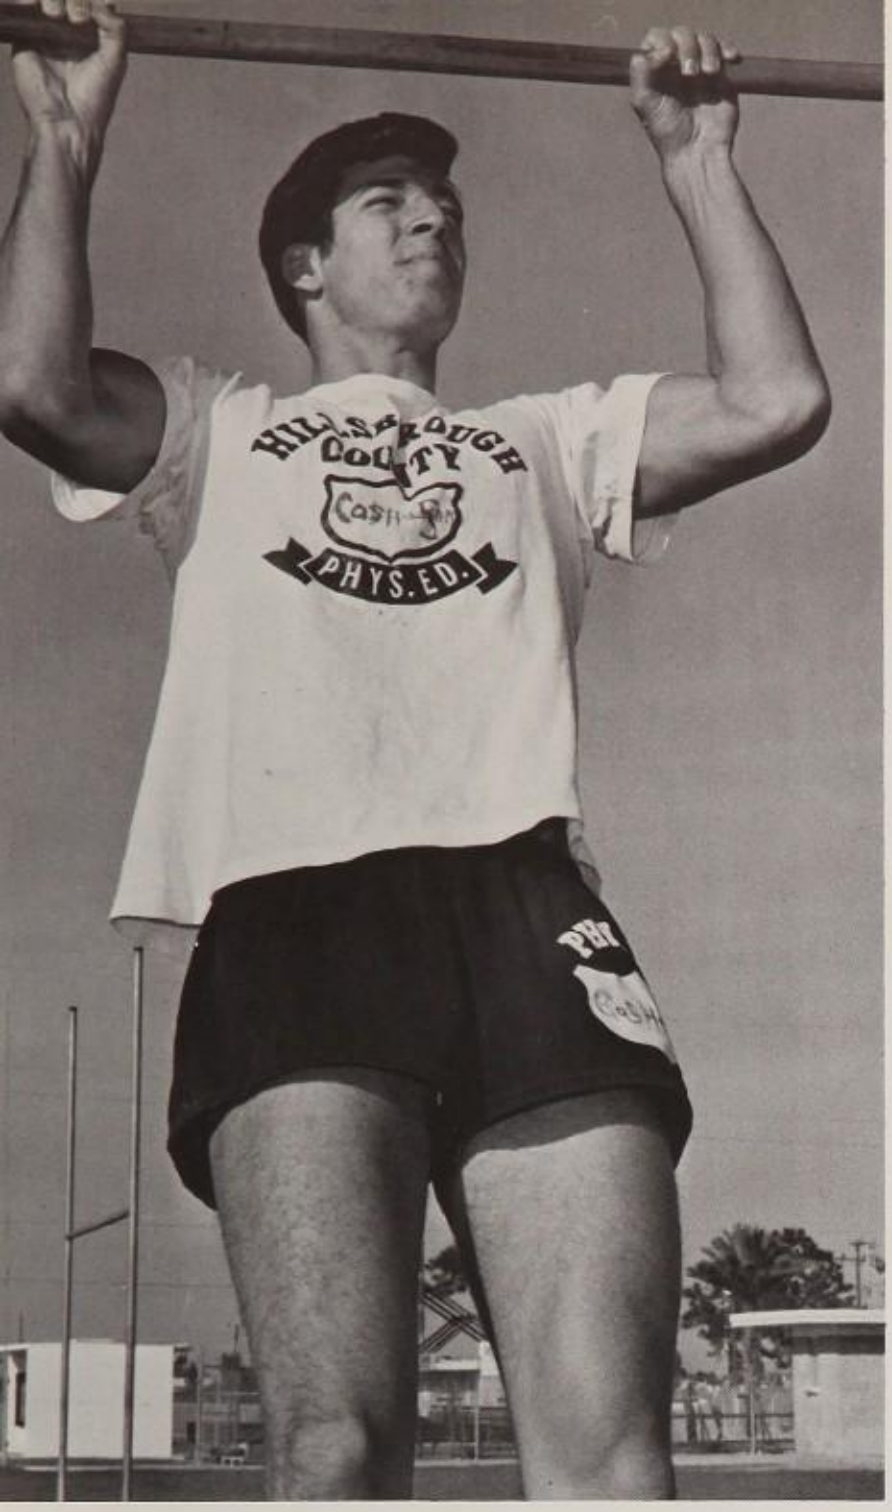
CROSS COUNTRY . . . forming the first Cross Country team ever at Robinson . . . Coach Dick Carlson putting in the time needed to guide them . . . having David Harrison as team captain . . . sweating through endless hours of just running, running, running . . . daily ten mile runs building bodies and endurance needed to establish extra effort for winning . . . running down dirt roads, through weeds, and learning to avoid dogs . . . going to meets only to perform before nearly empty stands . . . continuing to put everything into the two miles that really count . . . the joy and satisfaction of becoming Hillsborough County champions . . . from there going to state finals in Titusville . . . experiencing all in their first year at Robinson.



David Harrison points out to Cam Higginbotham the route they will run for their hours of strenuous practice.

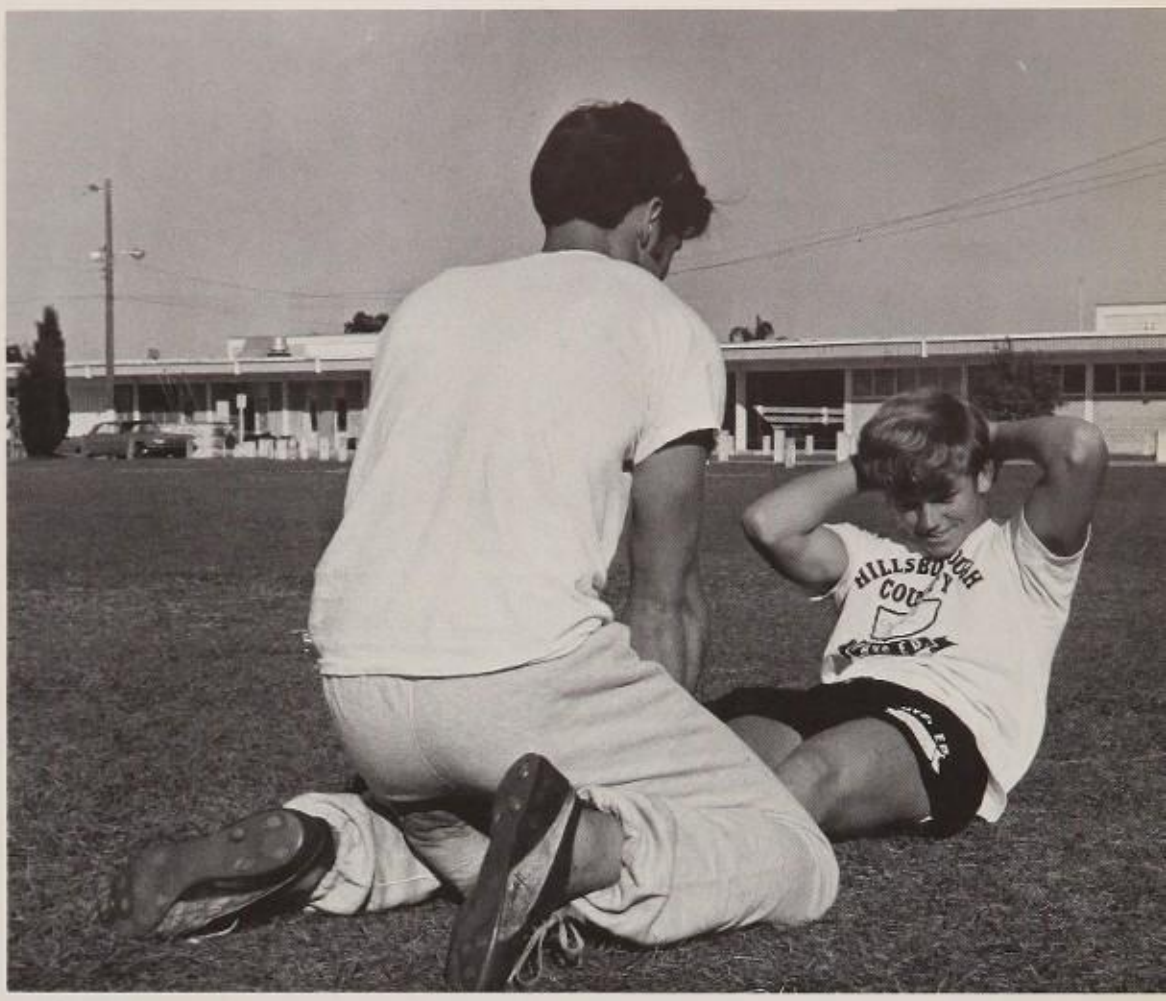


Bobby France and David Miller lead the team in a daily ten mile run to get in shape for the coming meet.



Jeff Cash strains to do one more pull-up during after-school practice in preparation for upcoming meet.

Richard Thornton holds Philip Chamburs' legs steady as he does sit-ups in two minutes for a top score.



Robinson's fitness squad produces physical ability

PHYSICAL FITNESS . . . representing Robinson for the past four years in City, State, Regional, and National meets . . . practicing during P.E. and after school . . . making four trips to the Nationals every June in Washington, D.C. . . . placing second, third, with a fourth last year . . . Jeff Cash and Philip Chamburs returning from last year's team . . . being judged on five exercises . . . doing as many sit-ups as possible in a two minute period . . . having one minute to do squat thrusts . . . straining to do as many push-ups and pull-ups as possible . . . finishing up with a 300 yard run . . . receiving only a three minute rest period between exercises . . . trying to make a perfect 500 score to bring RHS honor.

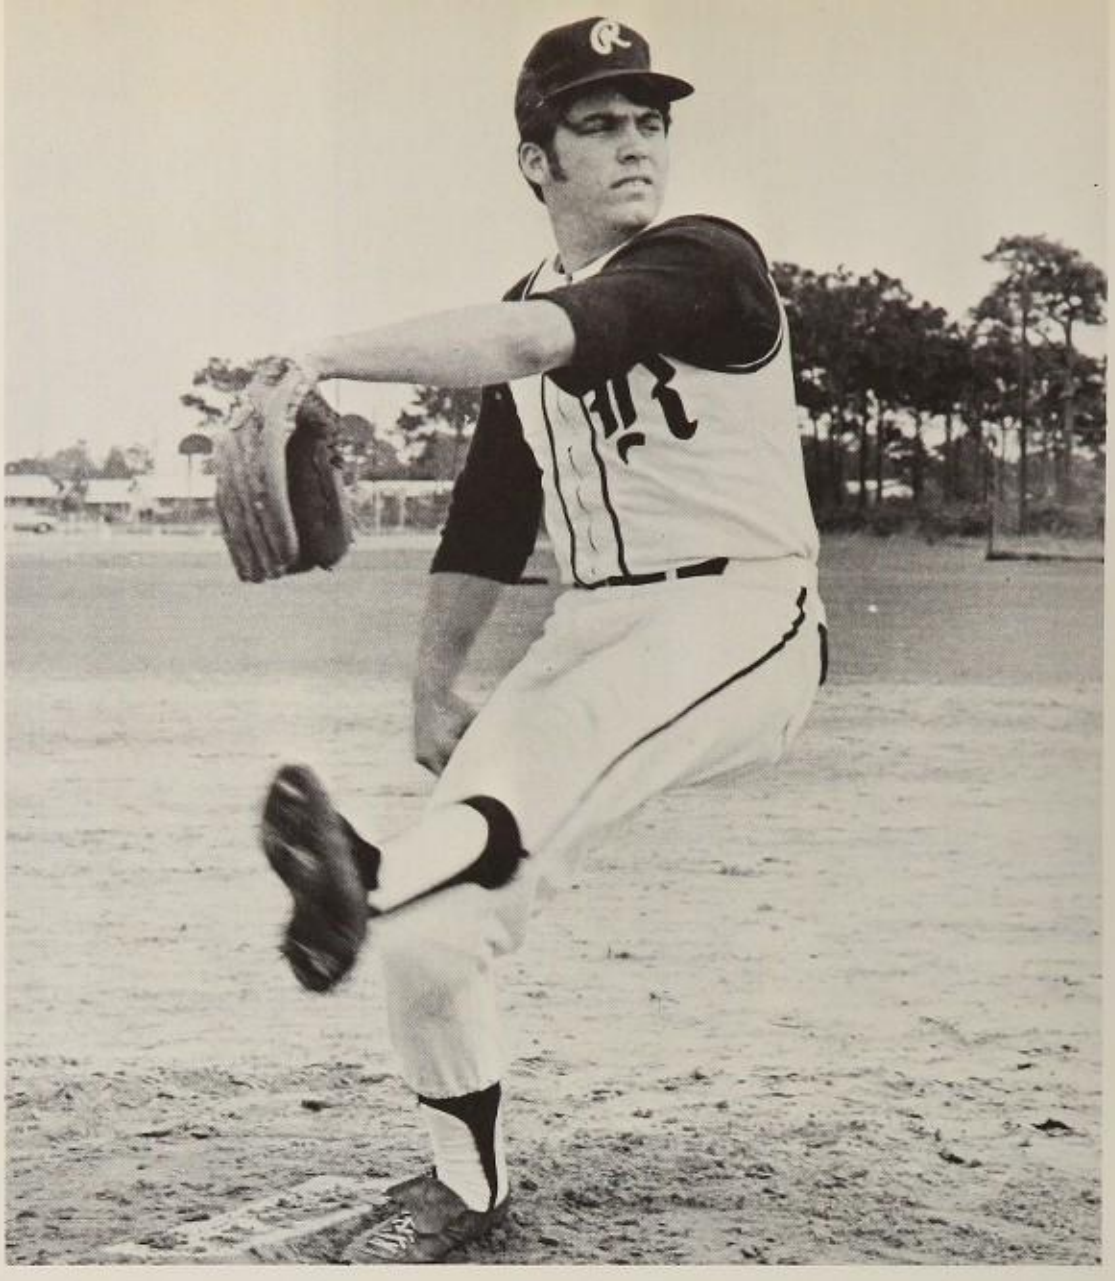
Senior pitcher Richard Vietz exhibits a perfect pitching form as he attempts to lead the Knights' nine.



RHS nine strains to earn state title in tough season

BASEBALL . . . starting practice in the latter part of the winter . . . returning from the last season as state runner-up . . . working hard everyday after school . . . strengthening infield and outfield to protect hard-earned runs . . . pitchers running and throwing to get in shape . . . looking very strong with twelve lettermen returning after an outstanding season . . . eight seniors on this year's team . . . Ken Robbins and Richard Veitz sharing the pitching chores . . . David Dennison and Nilo Menendez protecting scores in the outfield . . . Doug Clark and Dana Singer providing runs with clutch-hitting . . . Ed Arsenault and Lou Garcia showing that sophomores have the ability . . . trying hard to return to state and bring home the title.

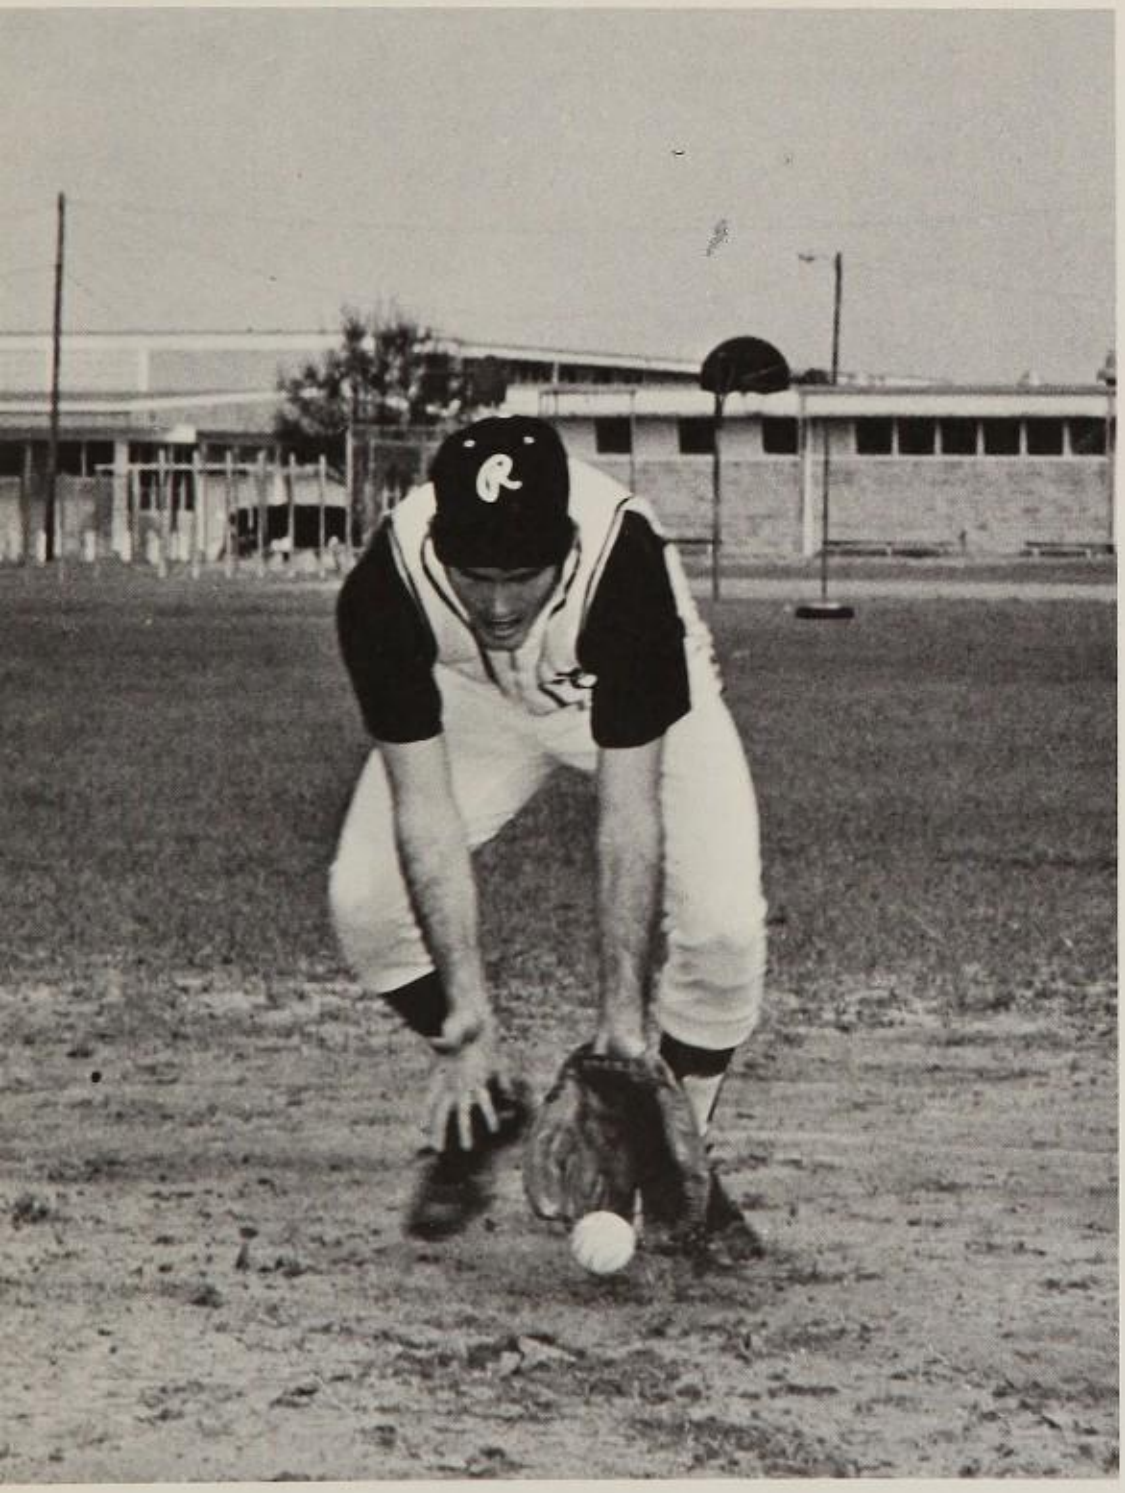
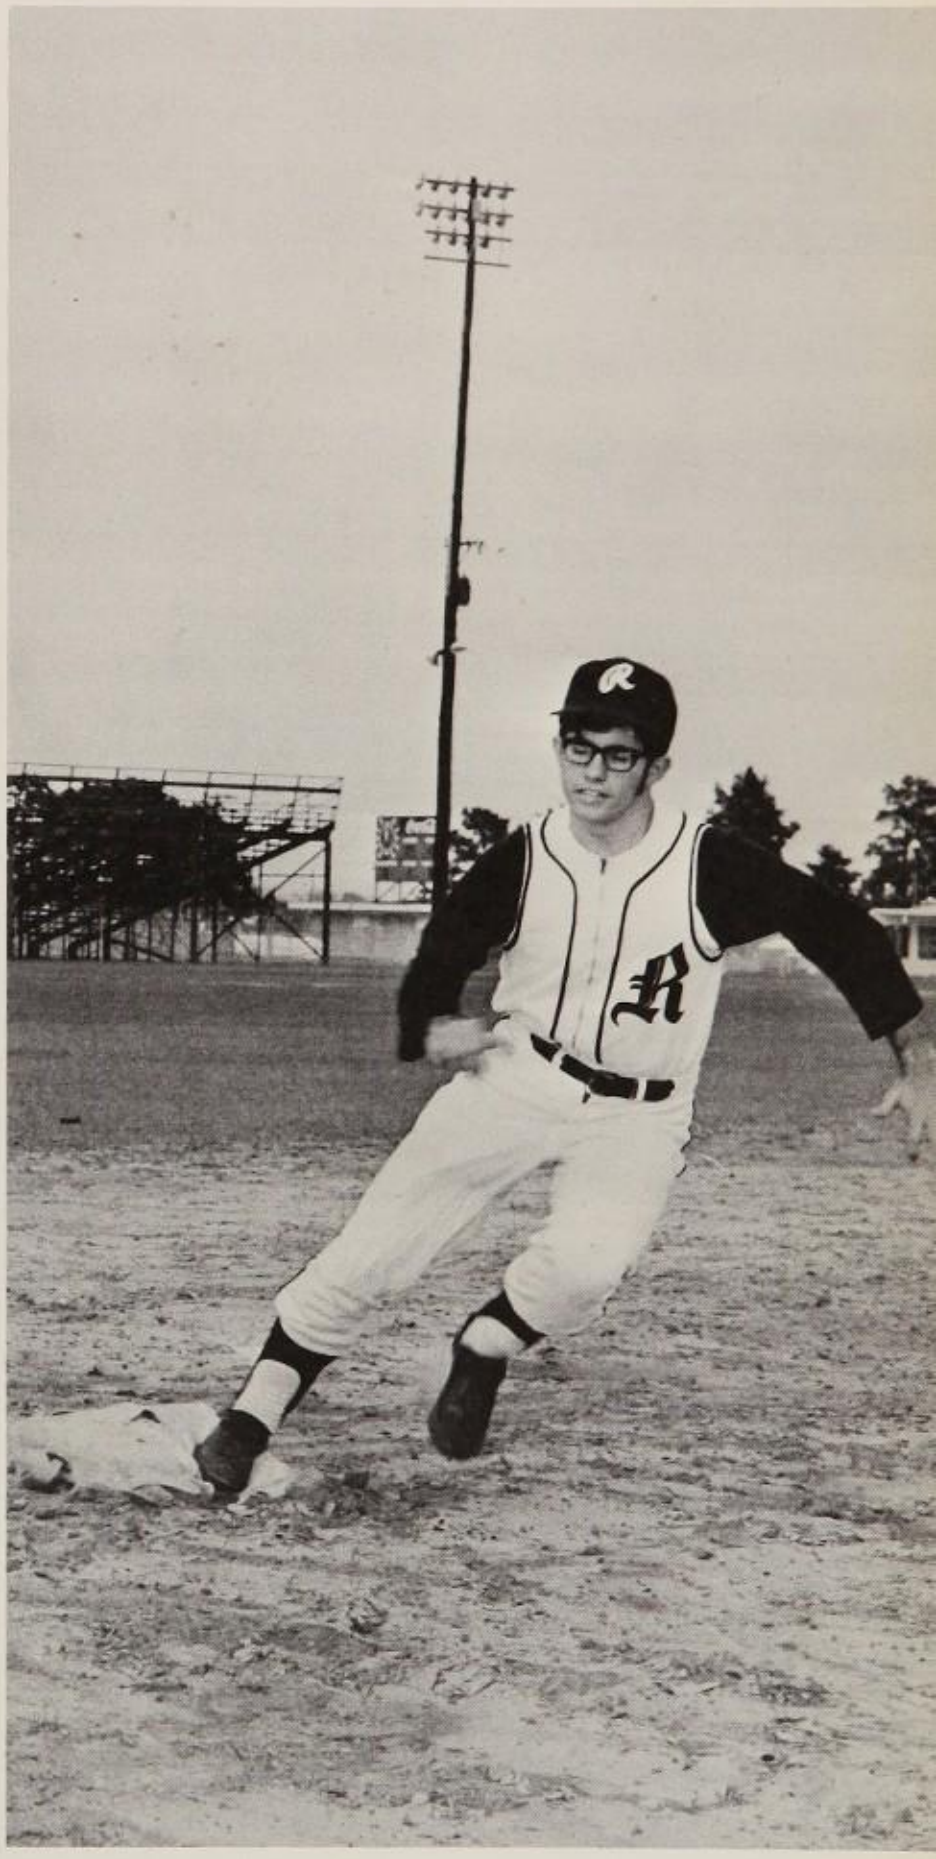
George Reilly evades sliding Jim Griffin to complete the second out of a double play in an inter-squad game.



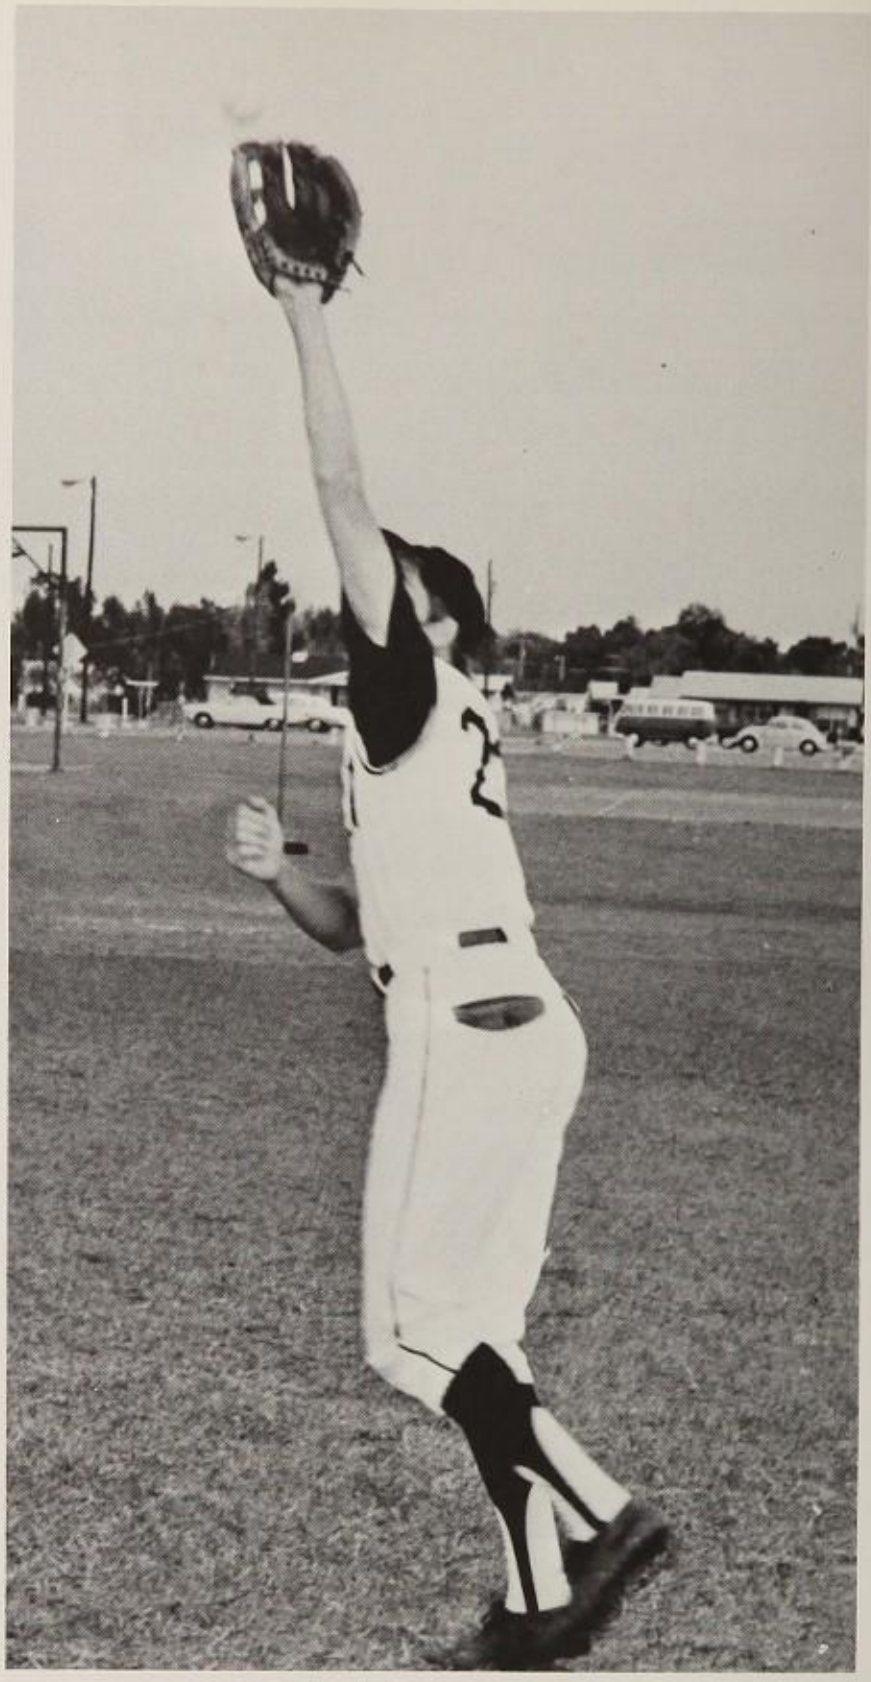
Senior Ken Robbins charges the oncoming ground ball in an attempt to make play to end the inning.

Senior letterman Nilo Menendez touches third base on his way to home plate to score deciding run.

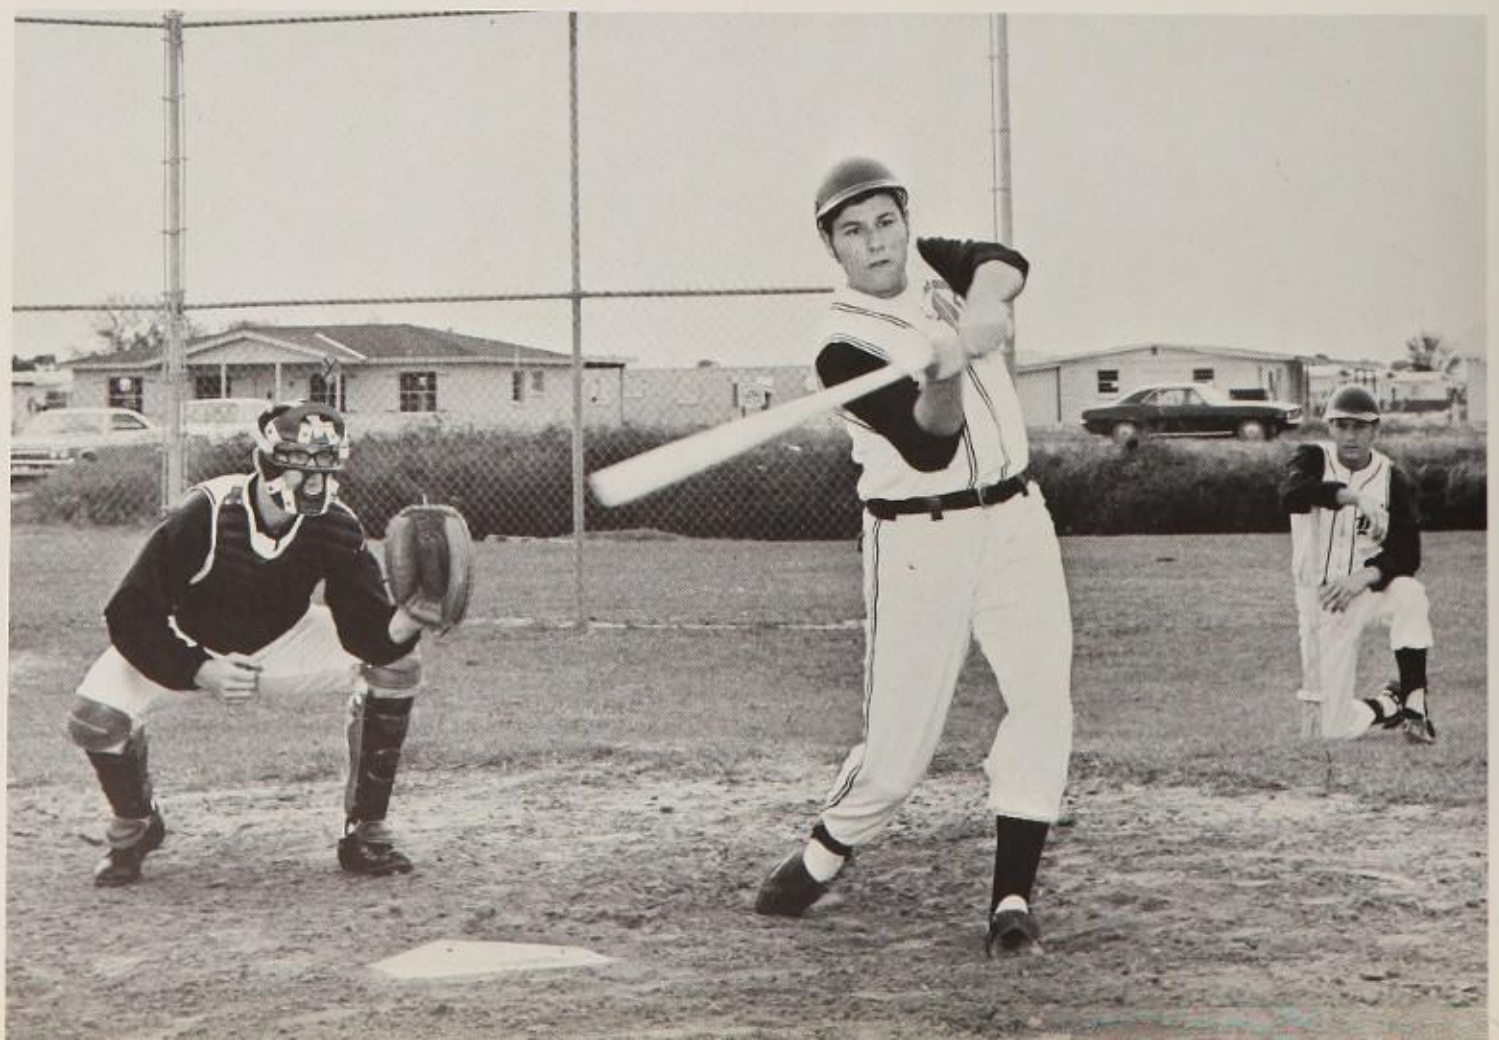


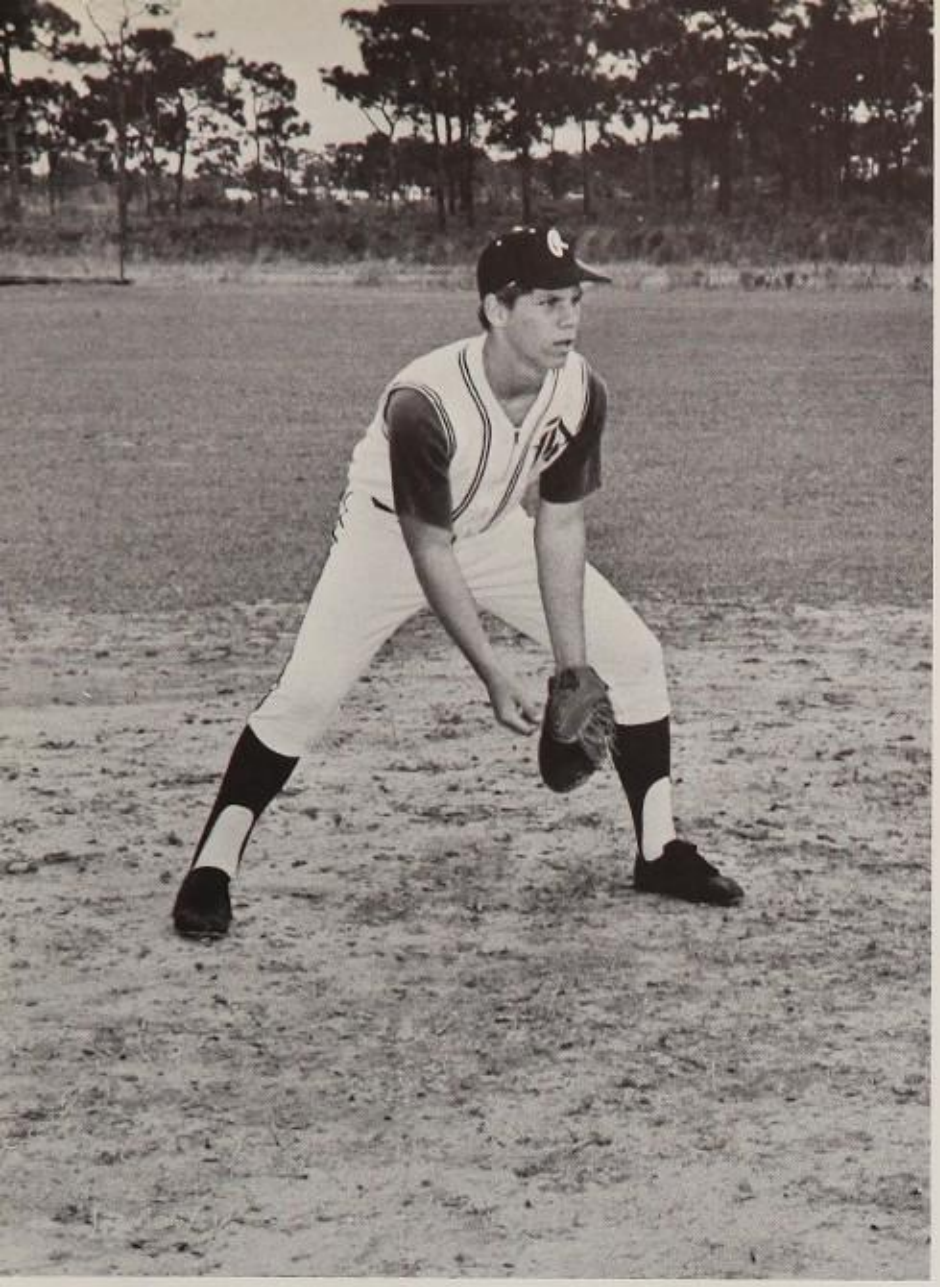
Coach Garcia discusses strategy with catcher Stan Head and pitcher Ed Arsenault during critical moment.

Senior outfielder David Dennison stretches high to make a catch of a long drive to deep right-field for an out.



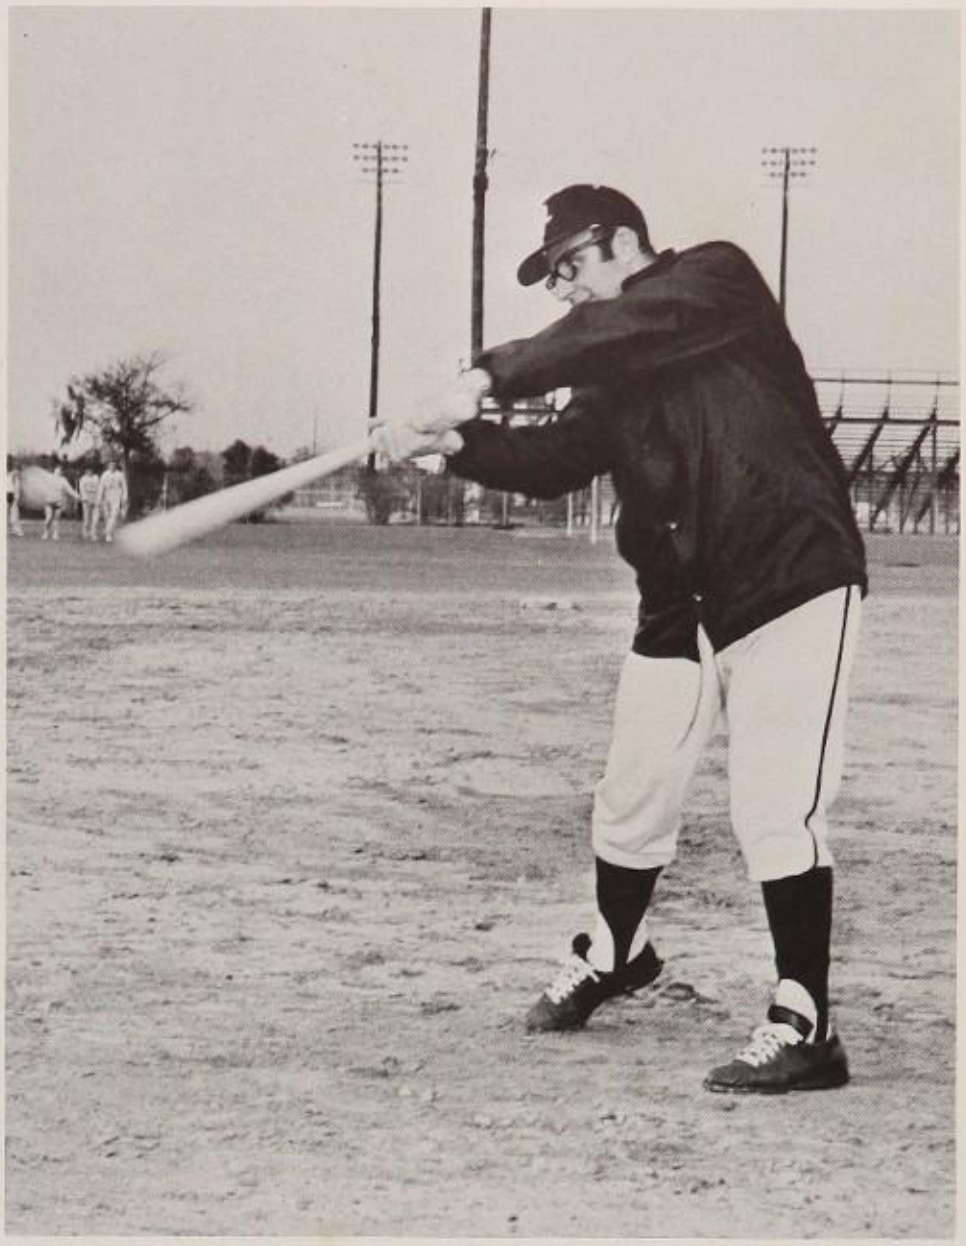
Gary Ippolito shows a perfect swing as catcher Rodney Holp awaits the oncoming pitch while Waddy Davis stands by.





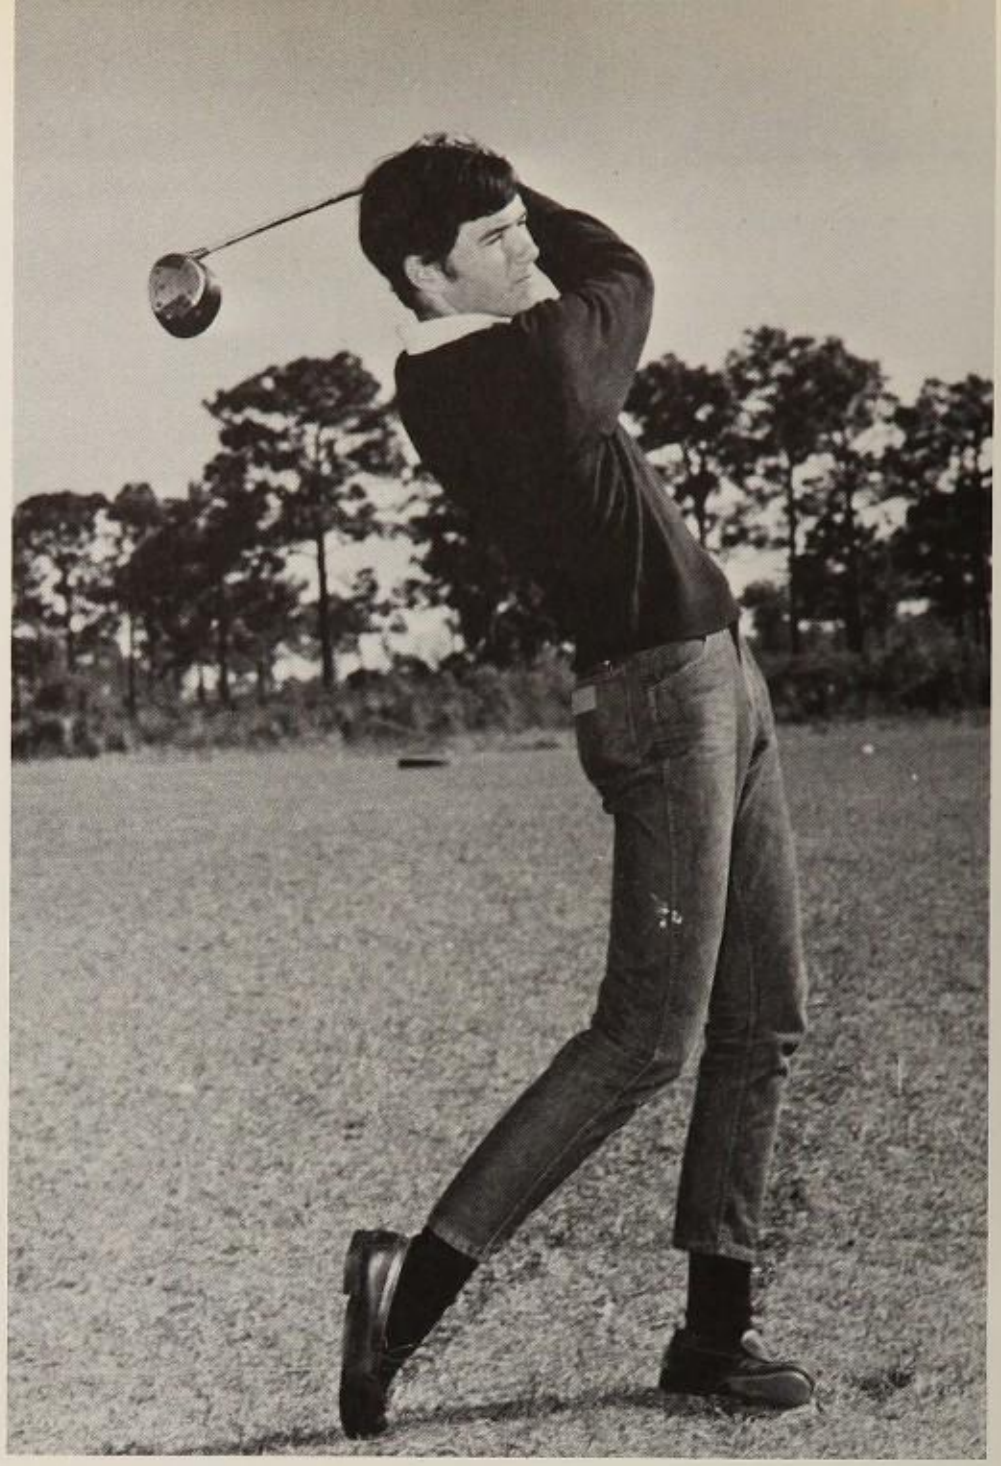
First baseman Joe Griffin is concentrating on what to do if the ball comes his way during an important game.

Coach Garcia hits the ball for infield practice to build the needed skill of defensive play during the season.



Claude Hawes slides safely into second base as Doug Clark takes the throw from the catcher to make the play.

First baseman Steve Stock, after scooping up a hard hit ground ball, flips it to assisting pitcher Mike Puls.



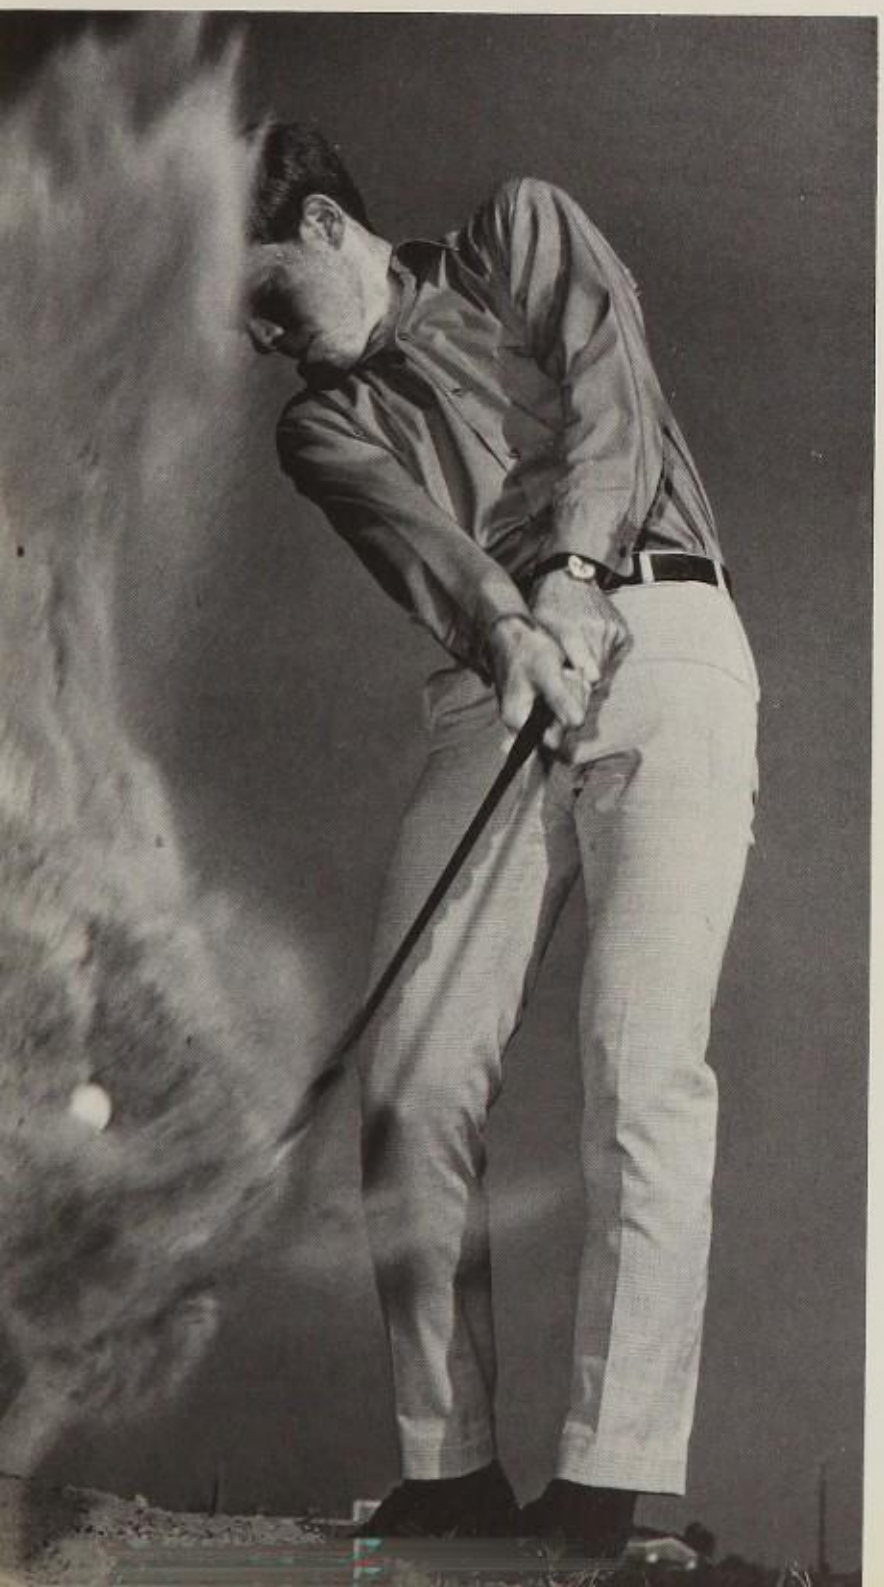
Returning letterman Jerry Rausch exhibits perfect form to fellow teammates during a very important golf match.

Robinson golfers exhibit sportsmanship and talent

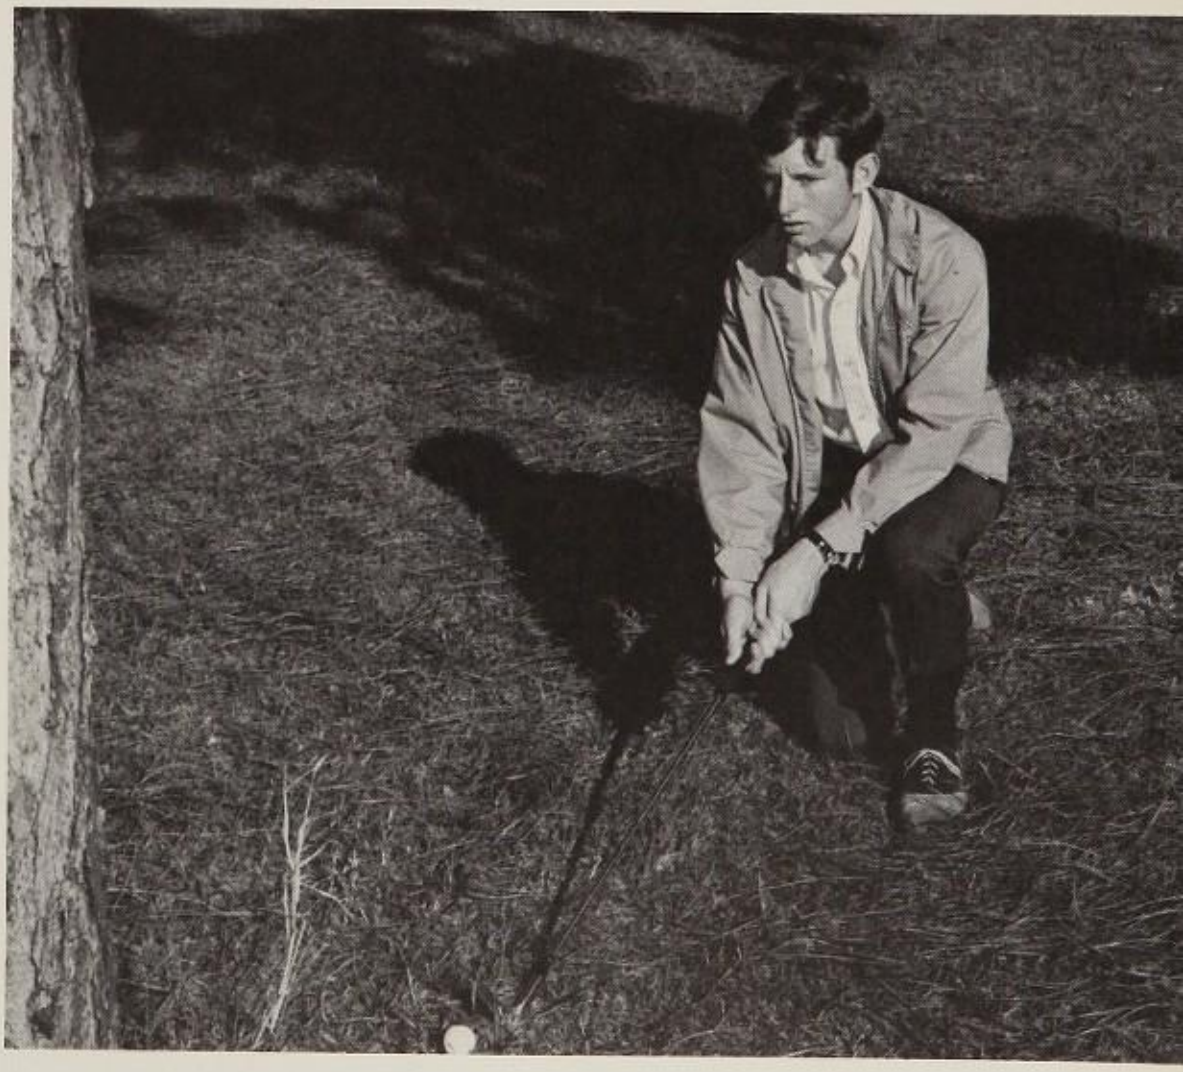
GOLF . . . golfers meeting every possible day to practice . . . finding a lack in participants . . . Jerry Rausch being the only returning letterman . . . practicing and competing at MacDill Air Force Base golf course . . . Coach Durnin taking over the leadership of guiding a successful team . . . applying good golfing techniques according to the conditions of the course at the right time . . . trying to drive the ball as straight and long as possible . . . steering clear of the sandtraps, water holes, trees, and rough . . . seniors exhibiting their experience from their years before . . . carrying their clubs and pride for the full eighteen holes of the golf course . . . holding the club of pride for RHS.

Coach J. Durnin, S. Livingston, J. Robertson, J. Rausch, C. Spencer, S. Jones.

Chuck Spencer calculates his next shot so that he may avoid hitting the tree after landing off the fairway.



Sophomore Jim Robertson blasts the ball out of the sandtrap onto the green landing six inches short.



Chuck Spencer takes a second look to help make up his mind which way he will play the shot.

THE BEST
Taylor-made

Excalibur '70 salutes . . .

Frank Meiers, Bill Stoeltzing, Rick Gilson, George Zawater, and all the employees of Bryn-Alan for fulfilling all our exorbitant demands . . .

Tiki Gardens and Six Gun Territory for providing picturesque backgrounds . . .

RHS administration and faculty for putting up with all our tardies, excuses and what-nots during deadlines . . .

Our understanding parents for allowing us to spend endless days, nights, and holidays at the school . . .

The advertisers and patrons which we could not possibly do without . . .

Mr. Jim Bolin, our "sweet prince" from Taylor Publishing Company, for all the personal words and professional advice . . .

The cooperative custodial staff for opening and locking the gates and doors at all hours . . .

Mrs. Deannie McClendon, "the boss," for sharing all the joys, excitements, and frustrations . . .

The Excalibur staff of 1970 for giving their time and effort for a new creation . . .

And the students of RHS for making the game of life worth playing.

Sincerely,

Bonnie Ibo

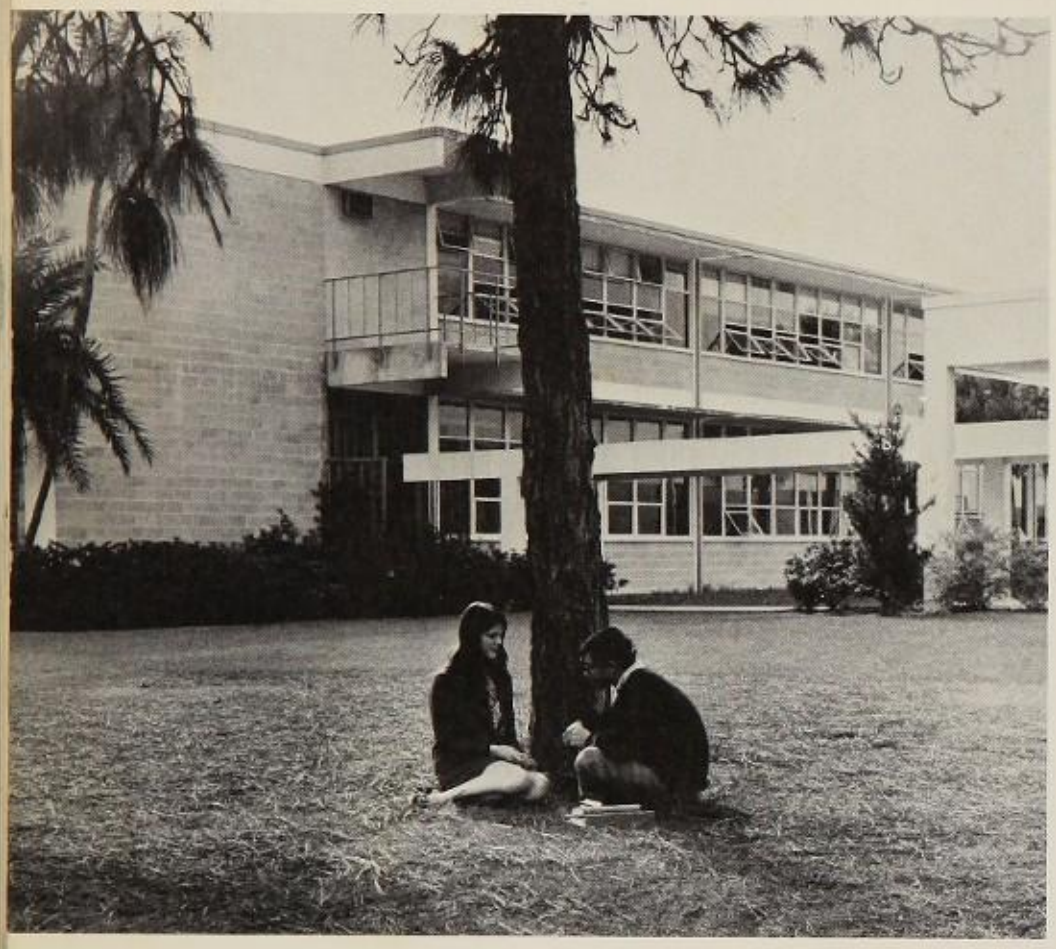
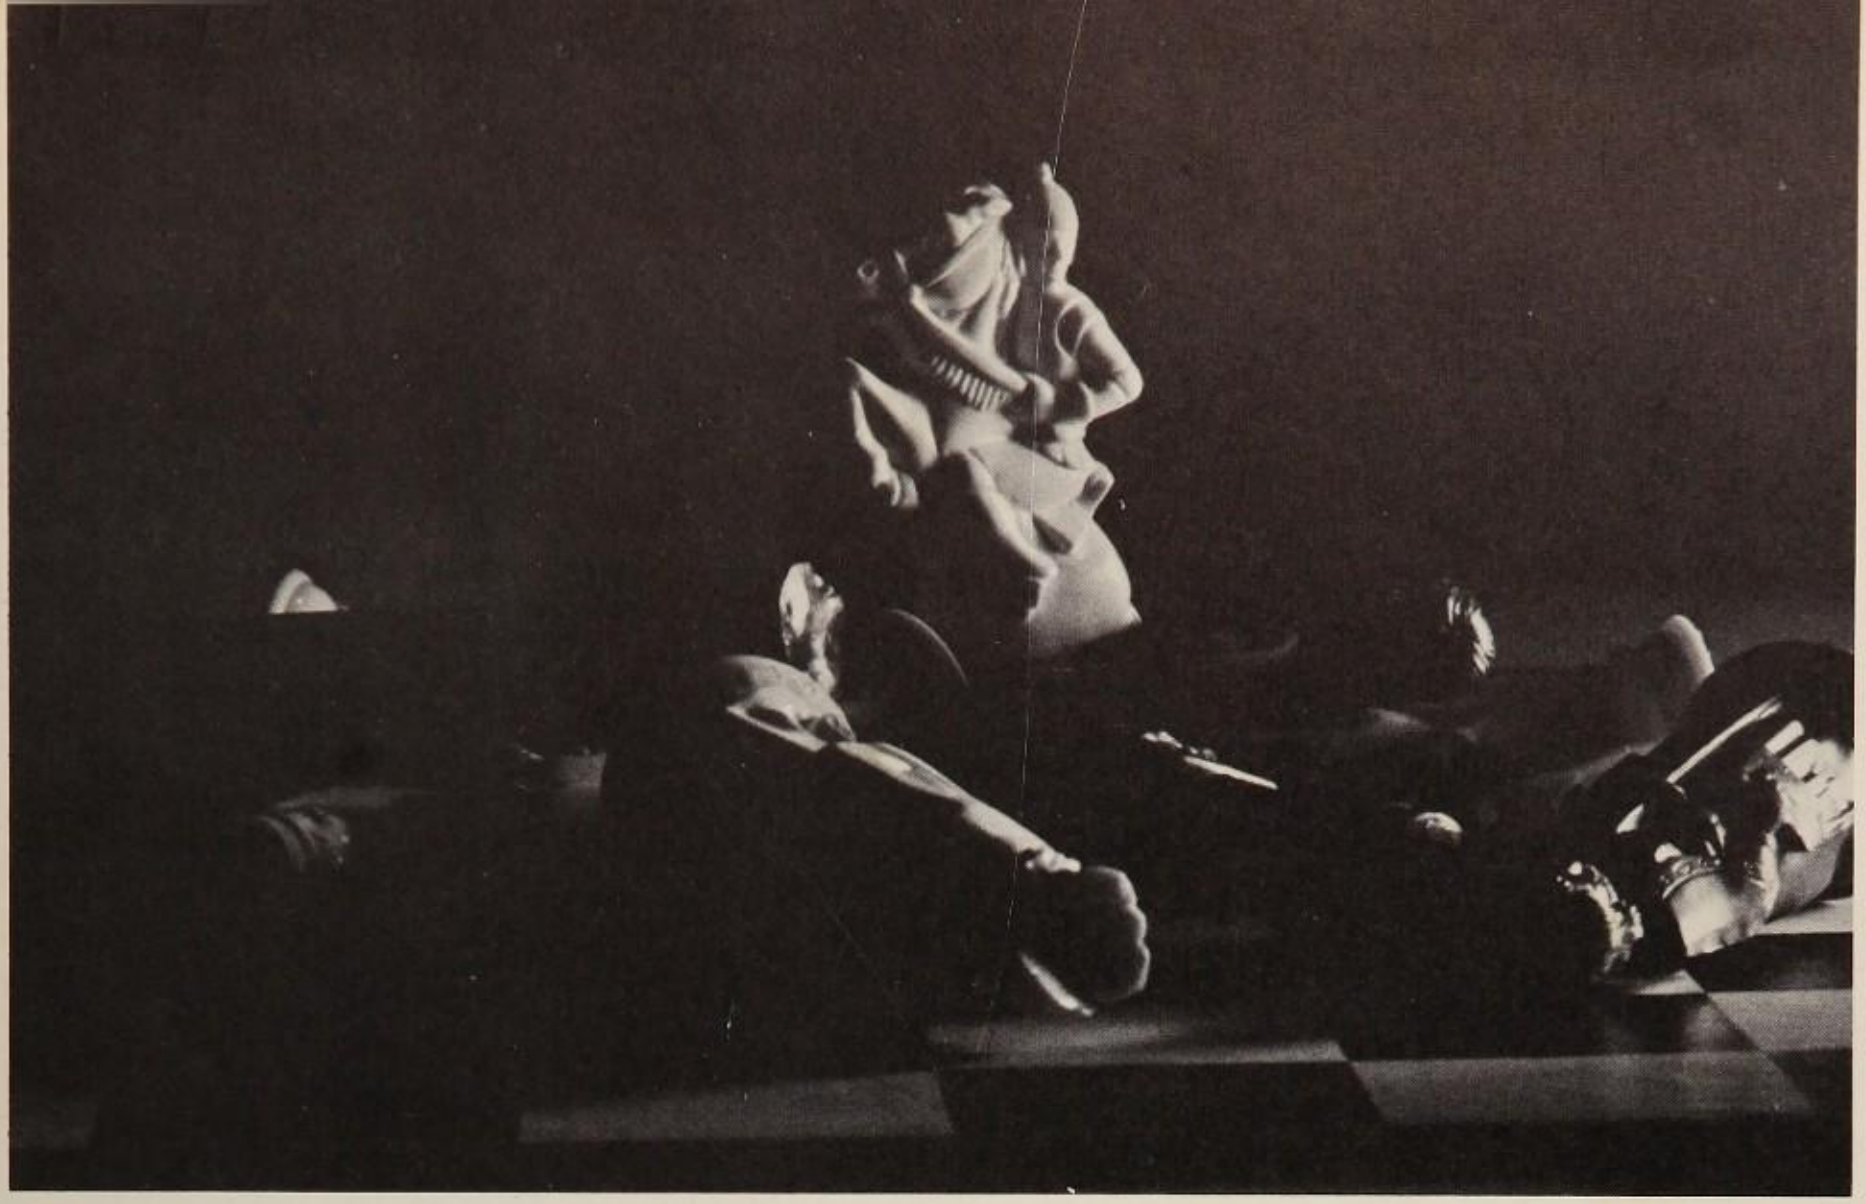
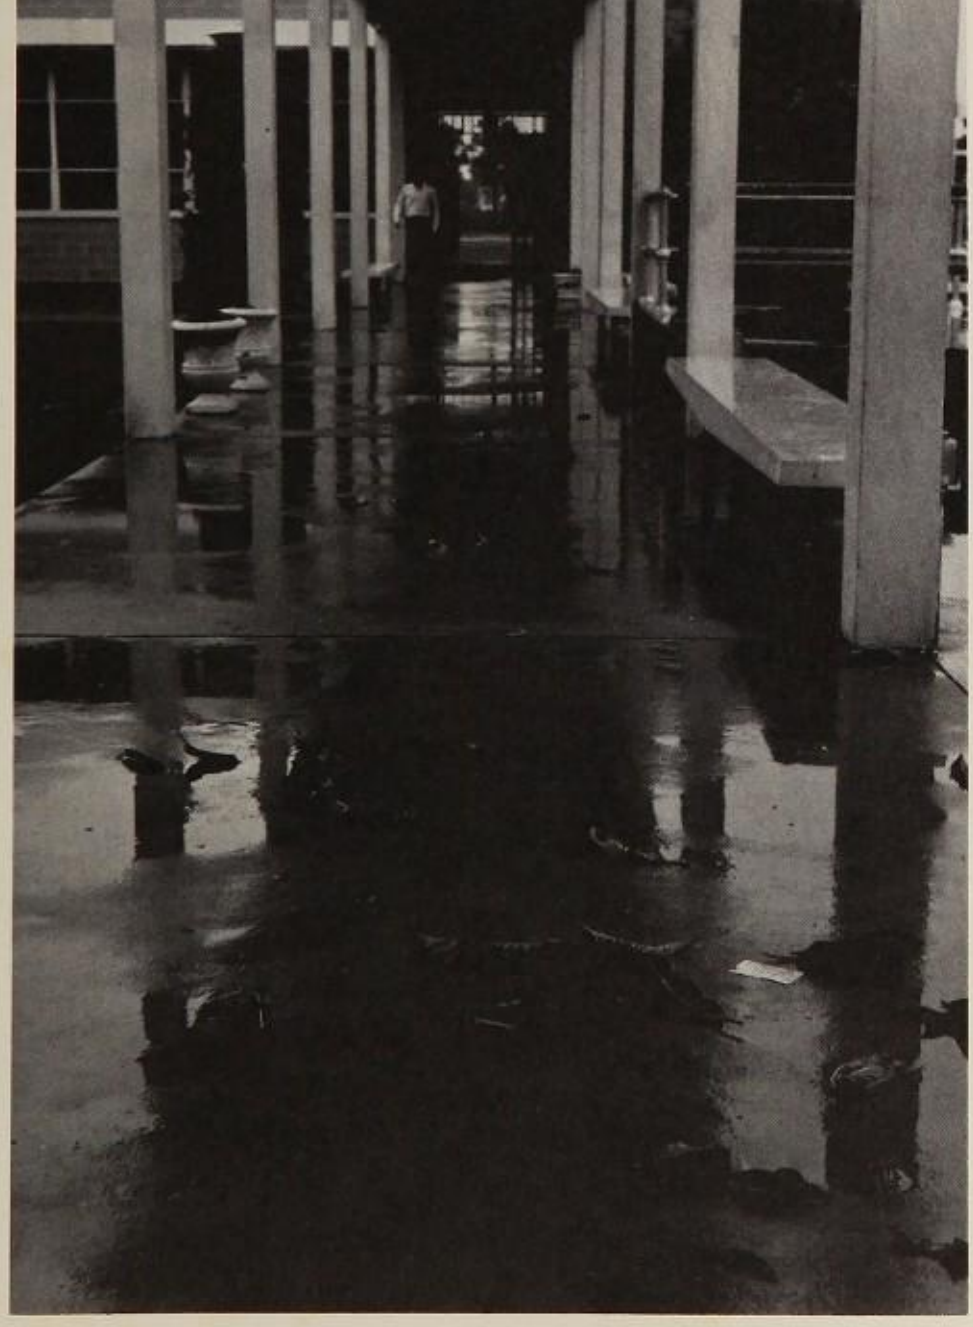
The game draws to a close.
It is all finished and done – the excitement, the struggle,
The moments of joy and sadness, frustration and learning.
The squares on the board blur together
As we pause in contemplation.
We have played our best; we leave now
For other boards and other players.
Who can say who has won or lost?







The game is over.
We can move forward, but never back.
Time slips away behind us.
Today turns to yesterday.
With some reluctance and much eagerness we look toward tomorrow.
We can only make our next move,
Hoping that what we learned in this game
Will aid us in finding reality.
Each one's increased knowledge of self will help him
To choose his own game, to know his opponent,
To expect the unexpected,
To cope with crisis, to act with honor,
To concentrate on achieving excellence,
To do better than he can.
And to be, in the end, victorious.

Tom,

To a person which I misled ... ideals into being a Kook. Now, I am sorry and must commend you for being a fellow surfer adverse to an image ... I only hope that we may establish a parallel ... in the future. As Kooks-McGook Guerry ... progressing (falsely). I wish the best of luck and a bright future. If you ever need any type of assistance, please feel free to contact me. My door is open. Keep the faith, move on the sun ... it's our way of life.

A fellow surfer,
Charlie Garcia

"The World's Best Yearbooks Are Taylor-made"

Chess, an intricate and interesting game, offers a comparative setting for the 1970 story of "The Robinson Knights."

Simulating warfare, chess is probably the world's oldest game of pure skill. One theory is that it was devised to divert men from waging actual war. With this idea Robinson is proud to be identified.

Played on an ordinary checkerboard, chess uses all the squares, a significant difference. Robinson realizes that all areas have purposes; that extraordinary values often evolve from ordinary situations.

On a chessboard, a brilliant attack sometimes wins swift success, but the game is usually won through many small victories. Robinson appreciates genius, patience, perseverance, and perspiration.

Each chessman has a special way of moving. The Robinson Knight studies objectives, chooses direction and moves to achieve desired results.

Chessmen include the knight of chivalry, symbol of courage, honor, truth, loyalty, and service. The Robinson Knight is given a guide, a goal, a standard for learning to live.

Like wise men of old who fathered chess, Robinson Knights have a vision of an Age of Peace, when earth's peoples will solve their problems and resolve their differences in a wiser way than war.

The chessboard game of life goes on.
